Quick Facts:

- Princeton has won six NCAA championships since 1992, of which four have come in overtime. The four overtime goals: Andy Moe (unassisted) in 1992; Kevin Lowe (assist from Jeff MacBean) in 1994; Jesse Hubbard (assist from Lorne Smith) in 1996; B.J. Prager (assist from Ryan Boyle) in 2001. Princeton's other two NCAA championships came in 1997 and 1998 by a combined total of 22 goals. Princeton lost in the NCAA championship game in 2000, 13-7 to Syracuse, and 2002, 13-12 to Syracuse.
- Princeton made 14 straight NCAA tournament appearances since making its first trip in 1990. Princeton's 25-8 record is the best in Division I history.
- Princeton's 2001 season ended with a 10-9 overtime win over Syracuse in the NCAA final. Princeton led 8-4 entering the fourth quarter and 9-8 with 30 seconds remaining before having to pull the game out in overtime. The Tigers won all three of their NCAA tournament games by one goal, running their NCAA tournament winning streak in one-goal games to 11 straight. Princeton outscored its Ivy opponents 88-21 in winning its seventh-straight title.
- The 1998 season saw the Tigers win their third straight national title and fifth in a seven-year span. The Tigers went 14-1, with their only loss coming in the second game of the season to end the second-longest winning streak in lacrosse history at 29 games. Princeton went on to win its final 13 games and defeat Maryland 15-5 in the national championship game. Princeton was led by national defenseman of the year Christian Cook, national midfielder of the year Josh Sims and the All-America attack of Jon Hess, Jesse Hubbard and Chris Massey, who scored 618 points in 60 career games.

- The 1997 season was the best in school history, as the Tigers set a school record for wins by going 15-0 and placed 10 players on the All-America teams. The perfect season was the second in school history and first since 1935 (9-0). The Tigers pushed their school-record winning streak to 28 games, had 13 players named All-Ivy League after going perfect through the league for a second-straight time and won a second-straight national championship by defeating Maryland 19-7 in the final.
 - The Tigers stunned top-ranked Syracuse, 10-9, in double overtime to win the 1992 NCAA championship, the first NCAA team title for Princeton since the men's fencing team won in 1964 (crew is not an NCAA sport). Andy Moe '92, who four years earlier had played on the first Princeton lacrosse team to go winless in Ivy League play, sealed the dramatic turnaround by scoring the championship-winning goal nine seconds into the second extra session.
 - Princeton won its second NCAA title in a three-year span with a dramatic 9-8 overtime victory against the University of Virginia. Kevin Lowe '94 scored the game-winning goal off an assist from Jeff MacBean '96 just 42 seconds into the overtime. Goaltender Scott Bacigalupo '94 earned MVP honors in the title game for the second time in his career.
 - Princeton won its third national championship with a 13-12 win over Virginia accomplished, like the first two, in overtime. Jesse Hubbard scored the game-winner 34 seconds into the overtime.
 - Six Princeton teams were voted as national champions (1884, 1885, 1937, 1942, 1951 and 1953).
 - Princeton dominated the decade of the 1990s in Ivy League lacrosse, winning seven championships. Princeton had perfect 6-0 league records in 1992, 1993, 1996, 1997, 1998 and 1999
 - Since formal Ivy competition began in 1956, Princeton is 171-89-2 (.655) against league opponents. The Tigers have also won the most Ivy League titles – 19 – of any team.
 - From 1957 to 1965, Princeton dominated Ivy lacrosse action, stringing together nine consecutive league titles. The Tigers were undefeated in Ivy competition from 1957-63, chalking up 5-0 records in each of those league seasons except for 1960, when they tied Harvard, 11-11, for a 4-0-1 record.
