Season Outlook

When you're coming off just the third losing season in a brilliant 21-year career, you can't wait to start the next season.

Air Force head coach Fisher DeBerry is more than ready. He would have started the season the week after the last game if he could have.

"I can't wait to get back on the field," DeBerry said. "Our strength staff has done a good job of bringing out the athleticism of our players in the off-season and now we need to get them on the field and develop it with practice."

The team is coming off a 5-6 season with a squad that was very young, even by Academy standards. The Falcons had 18 freshmen play in varsity games, the most in the DeBerry era.

The good news about 2005 is that young team, although still young, is much more experienced and the future is very bright.

Like any year with the Falcons, it all starts with the offense and the quarterback. The Falcons are in great shape with sophomore Shaun Carney returning. All Carney did as a rookie was become the first freshman to start on opening day in school history and finished the year with a school-record 61.1 completion percentage.

Carney completed 91 of 149 passes for 1,315 yards with 11 touchdowns and six interceptions. His quarterback efficiency rating of 151.32 would have ranked second in the nation, but he lacked enough attempts to qualify for the national statistics. His rating is the third-best in Air Force history and his 11 TD passes rank sixth all-time for a single season. Carney also led the team in rushing with 596 yards and six touchdowns.

The North Olmsted, Ohio, product played the backup position is where two of the biggest stories of the season rest. Senior Adam Ewing and sophomore Jim Ollis to battle for free safety and will play on special teams.

Both played on the junior varsity a year ago and were solid in spring drills.

Offensive Line

The fullback position will be taken over by junior Jacobe Kendrick, who was a reserve last year. The Midland, Texas, native rushed for 232 yards and a touchdown and provided much-needed fresh legs late in the year. A former halfback, Kendrick has shown exceptional quickness and strength at the fullback position.

Sophomores Ryan Williams and Scott Peeples will be the backups. The pair played on the junior varsity squad a year ago.

The strength of the offense is the offensive line and oftentimes it's the most important cog in the triple option machine.

All five starters return from last year, as well as a host of players that will provide great depth. The returning starters at tackle are junior Robert Kraay and senior Ross Weaver.

The guards are represented by seniors Lawrence Hufford and Pat Edwards, junior Curtis Grantham and sophomore Caleb Morris. Morris and Edwards missed the spring due to injuries but are expected back at full strength in the fall.

The center position will anchor the group once again this year. The team's only all-conference selection from 2004 returns in Jon Wilson. A native of Tampa, Fla., Wilson was a second-team all-conference selection last year and should be a favorite for first-team honors in 2005.

"I can't wait to get back on the field," DeBerry said. "He will lead as good a group of offensive linemen as we've had here in a long time. I'm very excited about where we are with the offensive line."

Newcomers to the varsity include sophomores Ryan Zeman and junior Thomas Crump. They were both junior varsity players last year. They'll join backups from a year ago junior Stuart Perlow, sophomore Blaine Guenther, junior Tyler Dohallow and senior Bob Scott.

The tight end position also has a host of returning players. Seniors Robert McMenemy from Snellville, Ga., and Carsten Stahr of Lincoln, Neb., each return. McMenemy caught five passes for 81 yards while Stahr had two for 19 yards. Sophomore Travis Dekker will add strength as a backup.

The Falcons were their typical selves offensively last year. Air Force ranked second in the conference in scoring at 29.6 points per game and total offense with 425.5 yards per outing. Air Force also won its 21st conference rushing title and finished fourth nationally with a 277.4-yard average.

Defensively, the team looks to improve on last year. The Falcons ranked seventh in the league in scoring defense with a 31.1 average. The team was eighth in the MWC in total defense allowing 422.1 yards per game. The good news for the Falcons is that several players return with a wealth of experience.

"I think our defense is going to be considerably better this season. I like what we're doing with the defense and I think we have a lot of guys that can help us," the coach said.

Up front, the Falcons will be led by junior Gilberto Perez, who moves from nose guard to defensive end. He'll be filling the shoes of the graduated Ryan Carter, who led the team with six quarterback sacks and was second on the team with seven tackles for loss. Perez had 39 total tackles, including four for loss and a quarterback sack last year. He also had two pass breakups, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery. The other starting defensive end will be senior Nelson Mitchell, who played in nine games a year ago. Mitchell had 18 total tackles, including 1.5 for loss. He also blocked an extra point attempt.

The pair will be joined by senior nose guard Russ Mitscherling, a native of Victoria, Texas, who will be starting for the second consecutive year. Mitscherling had 36 total tackles last year and established himself as a solid, consistent performer.

Senior Erik Anderson and junior Grant Thomas are returning lettermen that will help provide depth. Newcomers to the defensive line include sophomore Josh Clayton from Denver, Colo., and junior Kevin Quinn.

"Up front, I wouldn't want to swap our guys for anyone else in the league," DeBerry said. "They are a talented group and I think they'll make big plays for us."

The linebacker corps was the most hit by graduation. Senior co-captain John Rudzinski was the biggest loss. Rudzinski was second on the team in total tackles a year ago with 70. He also had a team-best seven tackles for loss and a sack.

Freshman Marcus Brown was expected to fill the void, but left school in the summer. Brown had 34 total tackles last year, including one sack. His best effort of the year came against Wyoming with a career-high nine tackles.

Seniors Overton Spence and Andrew Braley, part-time starters in 2004, are expected to be the other starters. Both missed the spring due to injuries. Spence had 26 tackles and Braley 20 a year ago.

In their absence, several players had a chance to impress including juniors Jared Baxley, a converted Falcon back, and Rick Ricciardi. The group will be aided by sophomores John Rabold, Aaron Shanor and Drew Fowler.

The secondary should be a strength for the Falcons, as more players return here than in any area. The group is led by senior Falcon Denny Poland. The Pittsburgh, Pa., native missed spring drills due to injury, but will be a two-time returning starter in the fall. Poland had 52 tackles a year ago, including 4.5 for loss and four sacks. He also had an interception and one pass breakup.

Senior John Taibi also returns. Taibi had 34 total tackles, including three for loss, last year. The pair will be joined by senior Mark Carlson, who moves from free safety. Carlson was the team's leading tackler with 73 last year. He also had two tackles for loss, two pass breakups and two fumble recoveries. The three will get some help in reserve roles from junior Adam Zanotti and sophomore Julian Madrid.

The free safety spot will be held down by sophomore Bobby Giannini. He was third on the team in tackles last year with 67. He also had a tackle for loss and an interception. His biggest play of the year, however, came against New Mexico when he made a mid-air stop on DonTrell Moore at the goal line on a fourth-and-goal play to help the Falcons to a 28-23 victory.

The corner positions will be manned by junior Chris Sutton and sophomore Carson Bird. Sutton played in every game last season and was fourth on the team in tackles last year with 65. He also had two tackles for loss and tied for the team-lead in interceptions with two.

Bird had 13 tackles a year ago as a reserve. Sophomores Ty Paffett and Nathan Smith will also vie for playing time.

The special teams area is where DeBerry is most concerned. "Our special teams were not special last year," the coach said. "We need to get back where we are blocking kicks and creating big plays in the kicking game."

The Falcons blocked just two kicks last year, breaking a string of 14 consecutive years with at least three blocked kicks. Despite the down year, Air Force has blocked 89 kicks since 1990 to rank second nationally.

The punting duties will be handled again this year by senior Donny Heaton. The Waterloo, Iowa, native averaged 41.3 yards per punt in 2004. He set an Air Force and conference record with a 90-yard punt against Utah. Juniors Christopher Carp and Jeff Fumary will compete for the backup spot.

"Donny Heaton is as good a punter as there is in this league," the coach said. "We didn't do a good job of helping him last year with our snapping. We must improve on that this year and I think we have some guys that can get the job done."

The deep snapping duties will be battled out between junior Bryan Jones and sophomore Tony Norman.

The place-kicking duties will be contested between senior Scott Eberle and juniors Brendan Greenaway and Ryan O'Dea. Eberle is the only one with varsity experience. He was perfect in six extra point attempts and had two kickoffs last season.

DeBerry is committed to bring the Falcons back to their winning ways.

If history repeats itself, they will bounce back. Following each of Air Force's other two losing seasons under DeBerry, the team won eight games the next year.
