Welcome to the sixth season of Robert Morris University Colonial Men’s Ice Hockey. This guide has been prepared to assist you in your coverage of the 2009-10 Colonial men’s ice hockey team. Let the Sports Information Office know if you need any additional materials or information.

All-access season passes will be mailed to those covering the team regularly and to others upon request. Passes can be held at the ticket office in the RMU Island Sports Complex.

Press Row: A working area for print and electronic media is located at center ice on the east side of the rink. Programs, game notes, media guides, rosters, box score updates, period and final statistics and the complete game play-by-play are provided at each home game. Statistics are provided by The Stat Crew System.

Radio: Visiting radio stations wishing to originate from the Island Sports Complex should contact Elyse Healey at (412) 397-2194. Approval must be arranged through the Sports Information Office. Visiting and home radio positioning is on press row directly behind the penalty boxes on the east side of the rink.

Post-Game: Approximately 10 minutes after the game, players and the head coach from the visiting team will be available for post-game interviews. After visiting team interviews, Robert Morris head coach Derek Schooley and select Colonial players will be available for interviews. The RMU locker room is closed for all home games. Reporters’ requests to speak with RMU and opposing players will be gathered with five minutes remaining in each game.

Sports Information Office: The Sports Information Office is located on the second floor of Joe Walton Stadium. Information about Robert Morris ice hockey and other Colonial intercollegiate sports is available there.

Interviews: Head Coach Derek Schooley is available between 12 p.m. and 2 p.m. by phone or in person. Interviews with RMU players should be arranged through the sports information office. Coach Schooley’s office is located on the RMU Island Sports Center second floor overlooking the Collegiate Rink and adjacent to the Hat Trick Club.

Admission: Tickets for all Colonial home games are $8 for reserved seating and $6 for general admission. Children (ages 8 and under) and seniors (age 65 and over) can purchase general admission seating for $4. RMU faculty, staff and students with valid University ID are admitted free. Individual and season tickets can be purchased by calling (412) 262-8449. Season tickets are $100 for reserved seating and $85 for general admission ($55 for children and seniors).

THE COACHING STAFF
Head coach Derek Schooley believes that his team is ready to regularly compete with other top teams around the nation as his previous teams have proved. Schooley’s teams have provided college hockey and Robert Morris athletics with some major upsets in the past three seasons. In January of 2007, the Colonials knocked off 2nd ranked Notre Dame 4-2 in South Bend, IN. In 2007-2008, Robert Morris won the prestigious Nye Frontier Classic in Anchorage, Ak. with an upset of four time national champion and 8th ranked Boston University.

The sixth year head coach enters the 2009-10 season with a 59-94-20 record in six seasons at Robert Morris. Schooley, 39, has been a college hockey coach for eleven seasons. In August of 2003, Schooley was named the first head coach in Robert Morris History. Prior to coming to Robert Morris, Schooley spent four years at the Air Force Academy as an Assistant Coach before spending one season at Air Force as Associate Head Coach. Schooley spent the 2003-2004 recruiting the inaugural Colonials Hockey Team.

During the 2008-09 campaign, Robert Morris got off to a rough start with a team consisting of only four seniors and 14 underclassmen. However, the Colonials rebounded in the second half of the season with a seven-game unbeaten streak. Their record of 10-19-7 and third place finish in College Hockey America featured a run to the CHA Championship game where Robert Morris lost an overtime heartbreaker to the eventual Frozen Four team, Bemidji State. Five of Schooley’s student-athlete’s earned honors from the CHA as Chris Margott, Nathan Longpre and Denny Urban were named to the All-CHA First Team. Brooks Ostergard and James Lyle also garnered conference laurels as they were All-CHA Rookie Team selections.

In 2007-08, Schooley’s Colonials achieved their first 15 win, over .500 season going 15-15-4, and once again earning a third-place finish in the CHA. The 07-08 season featured many other firsts for Coach Schooley and the Colonial Hockey program. Senior forward Ryan Cruthers was named 2008 CHA Player of the Year and was nominated for the Hobey Baker Award, which is awarded annually to college hockey’s most outstanding player. Senior forward, Joel Gasper was named the CHA Student-Athlete of the Year. This was the first time in Robert Morris Hockey history when Schooley’s players earned such prestigious honors. Besides the two major CHA Awards, the Colonials placed four members on All League teams (Cruthers 1st team; Chris Margott 2nd team; Nathan Longpre and Denny Urban on the All Rookie Team).

Schooley has coached fourteen players who have ascended from the program into professional hockey, as Kurt Wright (2006), Doug Conley (2007), Aaron Clarke (2007) and Joey Olson (2007) signed contracts in 2006 and 2007, while Sean Berkstresser, Tom Biondich, Joel Gasper, Chris Kaufman, Rob Cowan, Logan Bittle, Christian Boucher, Brett Hopfe, Jeff Gilbert and Ryan Cruthers joined them in signing professional hockey contracts after the 2007-08 campaign.

In their inaugural season, the Colonials finished with an 8-21-4 overall record. Many people thought that anything other than a zero in the win column that season would be a surprise for the first-year team. However, Schooley and his staff would prove college hockey wrong as the Colonials won their first ever game at Canisius on October 22, 2004 by the score 3-1. The Colonials would finish in 3rd place at the 2004 Rensselaer Holiday Hockey Tournament with a 4-2 win over Sacred Heart. The Colonials placed two players, Jace Buzek and Chris Kaufman, on the CHA all rookie team.

In 2005-06, the Colonials improved on the eight win 04-05 campaign by increasing their win total to twelve wins. The Colonials fourth place 05-06 CHA finish included wins at Schooley's alma mater Western Michigan (CCHA), Princeton (ECAC) and the Colonials first ever playoff win over Air Force in the CHA quarterfinals. Once again, the Colonials placed a member on the CHA All Rookie Team (Chris Margott).

After two successful seasons getting the program started, Schooley led his team to a 14-19-2 overall record and a third-place finish in the CHA in 2006-07 while placing their first member on a CHA all league team (Chris Margott).

While at Air Force, Schooley coached a defensive unit that broke the school record for goals against average of 2.91 in 2000-01 broke the record of 3.18 set a year earlier. Along with leading the defense at Air Force, Schooley assisted with nationwide recruiting efforts.

Prior to Air Force, Schooley spent a year as an assistant coach at Cornell during the 1997-98 season. He started his coaching career with the Chicago Freeze of the North American Hockey League in 1997 as an assistant coach and director of scouting.

A 1994 graduate of Western Michigan University with a Bachelor of Science degree in communications, Schooley was a four-year letterwinner as a defenseman with the Broncos. As a senior during the 1993-94 campaign, he tallied 23 assists and scored 27 points in 40 games, earning Central Collegiate Hockey Association (CCHA) Defensive Player of the Week honors Feb 4, 1994. Also during the 1993-94 campaign he was given the KOHA Grinder of the Year award and led the Broncos in plus-minus ratio with a +22. During the 1989-90 season, Schooley played junior hockey for current Air Force head coach Frank Serratore with the Omaha Lancers of the United States Hockey League (USHL).

Following his graduation from Western Michigan, Schooley played for the Huntington (W. Va.) Blizzard of the East Coast Hockey League (ECHL) during the 1994-95 season. In 66 games, he scored 18 points and compiled 151 penalty minutes. During the 1995-96 campaign, Schooley spent part of the season with the Blizzard before joining the Flint (Mich.) Generals, where he helped the team to a Colonial Hockey League (CoHL) regular season and playoff championship.

Schooley has been a head coach at the USA Hockey Select 14, 15, 16 and 17 Festivals. He also has spoken at numerous USA Hockey youth coaching clinics as well as the USA Hockey Masters Coaching Clinic. In August of 2002, Schooley gained international coaching experience as he was named an assistant coach of the United States Under-18 Select Team, which placed fifth in the Junior World Cup in Bratislava, Czech Republic, and Piestany, Slovakia.

A native of St. Louis, Mo., Schooley is married to the former Alicia Batson from Middleville, Mich. They are the proud parents of Kaitlyn, Brendan and Taylor.

A 2004 graduate of Colgate University with a BA in Education, Nicholson comes to Robert Morris after coaching two years at Division III Adrian College. A start up program in the 2007-08 season, Adrian College went on to win MCHA regular season and playoff championships during the 2007-08 and 2008-09 seasons for a combined record of 53-4-1.

“Matt brings an incredible amount of enthusiasm and passion to the game of hockey,” said head coach Derek Schooley. “He was a successful student athlete at Colgate and part of building a top ranked Division III program at Adrian. Matt has played for and worked with some very good coaches so we will be excited to bring some new and fresh ideas to RMU.”

While at Colgate, the London, Ontario native played 123 games and recorded two career goals and 10 assists. After graduation, he participated in the Phoenix Coyote’s NHL Rookie camp and went on to sign with the Bossier-Shreveport Mudbugs of the Central Hockey League (CHL) for the 2004-05 season. In 2005-06, Nicholson joined the Youngstown Steelhounds of the CHL for his final professional season before his career was cut short due to injury.

While coaching at Adrian, Nicholson started his own charitable foundation, "The Matt Nicholson Foundation." The organization is dedicated to serving programs that promote athletics as a positive outlet for local youth.

“Matt brings an incredible amount of enthusiasm and passion to the game of hockey. He was a successful student athlete at Colgate and part of building a top ranked Division III program at Adrian. After spending six seasons as an assistant coach at Brown University, Mark Workman joins the Colonials this year to begin his first RMU campaign. As a former top assistant for the Brown Bears and a head coach at St. Scholastica for six seasons, Workman adds a great deal of experience and knowledge to the Robert Morris hockey program.

“Mark brings a lot of experience to our program as an Ivy League Assistant Coach and a Division III Head Coach,” said head coach Derek Schooley. “He is a very knowledgeable hockey guy with strong recruiting connections and very good references not only as a coach but as a person. We are very fortunate to have added Mark to our staff.”

While at Brown, Workman was responsible for practice development, video scouting, game strategies, conditioning programs and bench management while overseeing the team’s defensive corps. Under Workman’s guidance, one Brown player received All-American distinction and five were named Academic All-Americans. In 2004, the Bears were led by NHL goalie Yann Danis, a Hobey Baker finalist, as they won the Ivy League Championship and advanced to the ECAC conference finals.

Workman served as the Assistant Coach at his alma mater, St. Scholastica, from 1993-1995, and was the Head Coach for St. Scholastica from 1995-2001, coaching five All-League Players in six years and 45 All-Academic players. Workman has also served as an NCAA representative at the 2000 and 2001 Division III Men’s Ice Hockey Quarterfinal Games, and on the NCAA Division III Men’s Ice Hockey West Region Ranking Committee from 1998-2001.

Over the past few years, Workman has coached at the Minnesota Model Camp, and also at the US Select 14, 15, 16 & 17 Festivals. He also coached a fall “AAA” Midget team in Duluth, Minnesota, and did part-time scouting for the Chicago Steel, of the USHL. While in Duluth, Workman helped to write scouting reports on the opposition of Minnesota-Duluth during the 2001-2002 season.

Workman was a four-year varsity player at St. Scholastica, serving as the team’s Assistant Captain as a junior and as the Captain as a senior in 1993. He earned the team’s Most Improved Player Award in 1992 and the Coaches’ Award in 1993, while playing in 105 of 107 games, including 105 consecutive contests, on the blueline.

Workman, a Stillwater, Minnesota native, received a B.A in Exercise Science from the College of St. Scholastica in 1993.

“Mark brings a lot of experience to our program as a Ivy League Assistant Coach and a Division III Head Coach. He is a very knowledgeable hockey guy with strong recruiting connections and very good references not only as a coach, but as a person. We are very fortunate to have added Mark to our staff.”

Joining the Colonials on the bench for the 2009-10 season is junior, Kyle Burton. After lettering in his freshman and sophomore season, he will be the newest addition to the RMU hockey staff as a student assistant coach due to a medical condition. As a player, Burton appeared in a total of 62 games as a forward while scoring 13 goals and 13 assists. Prior to attending RMU, he played three seasons with the Calgary Canucks in the AJHL.

David Brown is in his fourth year with the Colonials athletic training staff. Acting as an assistant athletic trainer, Brown is responsible for the health and the well-being of the men’s ice hockey, football, track and golf teams. Brown, a 2004 graduate of the University of Pittsburgh at Bradford, earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Athletic Training. While pursuing his degree, Brown was a four-year member of the Panther baseball team. A three-year starting catcher, he earned All-Conference honors in 2003 and 2004 while serving two years as team captain.

After graduating, Brown attended Bowling Green State University, where he served as a graduate assistant athletic trainer for men’s soccer and women’s track and field while also assisting with football. In 2006, he earned his Master of Education degree in Sport Administration.

Jared Mycyk is in his second year as a graduate assistant working as the equipment manager for Robert Morris men’s hockey. He also serves as an assistant equipment manager for the Robert Morris football program. In 2008, he graduated from Robert Morris University with a B.S.B.A. in Sport Management and Marketing. While an undergraduate student at the university, Mycyk worked as the equipment manager for men’s hockey since the program’s inception in 2004. Also, he spent three years as the equipment manager for the Robert Morris women’s hockey team. He is currently pursuing his Masters in Business Administration.
So close, yet so far away. After a strong finish to the 2008-09 season, the Robert Morris University men’s ice hockey team hopes to take up exactly where they left off—the top. The Colonials concluded their last campaign with seven straight wins or ties, the second longest unbeaten streak in Division I college hockey in 2009. With a stunning 2-1 victory in the College Hockey America (CHA) Semifinals over Niagara, Robert Morris made its second appearance in the CHA Championship game against Bemidji State. After dropping the heartbreaking overtime decision to the eventual Frozen Four Cinderella, RMU is hungry to finally win its first conference championship. Hoping to build on experience, head coach Derek Schooley and his Colonials plan to close out their final season in College Hockey America as a victorious one.

SCHEDULE

With a schedule that features nine of the first thirteen games on the road against teams that have almost all previously made appearances in the NCAA Tournament, the Colonials will little time to settle in with such a demanding schedule. “We are very excited about this year’s schedule,” said Schooley. “We play some very high caliber teams that certainly will challenge our still very young team that includes 18 sophomores and juniors. The experience we gained last year will be very important on the road at the Brice Goal Rush Tournament, and when we travel to Colorado College and Ferris State.”

The Colonials will open the regular season on the road in Fairbanks, Alaska, at the Brice Alaska Goal Rush Tournament in October. The four-team tournament will feature Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, the University of Alaska-Fairbanks and the University of Alaska-Anchorage. This tournament marks the first meeting between the Colonials and UA-Fairbanks and UA-Anchorage. In November, the Colonials will head west to meet three-time Frozen Four finalists, Colorado College. The Friday and Saturday games will be the first contests between the two squads.

On Friday, Jan. 8, the Colonials will host the 2009 national runner-up, Miami University, in the Fourth Annual Pittsburgh
College Hockey Showcase. Two days later, the Colonials will travel to Oxford, Ohio, to face Miami at the Goggin Ice Center in a Sunday afternoon match up. "Once again, we have an excellent opponent at the Pittsburgh College Hockey Showcase as we face national runner-up, Miami University, said Schooley. Also, playing for the final time at Mellon Arena should be an exciting experience for our players, fans and University."

The College Hockey America (CHA) schedule will once again be a challenge for the young, yet battle tested Colonials. "Niagara returns a deep forward group while Bemidji State will play with a great deal of confidence after their Frozen Four Performance," said Schooley. "Alabama-Huntsville should have excellent goaltending and a solid defensive unit that can also put the puck in the net." The Colonials will commence league play when the Bemidji State comes to town for a rematch of the 2009 CHA Championship game on Nov. 6-7.

FORWARDS

In 2008-09, Robert Morris boasted the top two offensive producers in the CHA, Chris Margott and Nathan Longpre. And similar as in years past, the challenge of graduation falls into the hands of a new crop of upperclassmen. "Cruthers had to do it without Clarke, Margott without Cruthers ... now Nathan’s challenge is to prove can do the same," said Schooley. "Every one of these players has risen to the occasion. I expect the same to happen this season as well."

Longpre, now a junior, had a break out year in 2008-09. He was honored as a CHA First Team selection and finished the regular season ranked 8th nationally for most assists. Also a 2009 NHL Pittsburgh Penguins Camp Invitee, the forward should continue to be one of the biggest scoring threats in the CHA.

Fellow junior, Chris Kushneriuk will also return as one of the Colonial’s top forwards. A transfer from Wayne State University in 2008, Kushneriuk had a stellar second half in 2009 as he posted 15 points in 21 games and won a CHA Offensive Player of the Week award.

The sophomore class, lead by Trevor Lewis and Ron Cramer also must produce by taking their experience from last season and turning it into points early in the season. Schooley also looks to Zach Hervato and a deep freshmen class to make an immediate impact and continue to strengthen as they season goes on.
DEFENSE

The Colonials only lost two defensemen to graduation at the end of 2009. With a very solid defensive core returning, Schooley believes the defense will be one of the strongest parts of the Colonial’s game during the 2009-10 season. “We have a lot of options since this is the deepest part of our hockey team,” said Schooley. “This is certainly a good top four to have returning.”

Junior blueliner, Denny Urban, has a proven track record of being both a defensive and offensive threat. Last season, he posted the most points out of all defenseman in the CHA. With four goals and 23 assists, he earned three CHA Defensive Player of the Week honors and was also named to the All-CHA First team.

Senior captain Dave Cowan also provided reliable stay at home, shut down defense in 2008-09. His physical style of play will once again be an asset to RMU in the season ahead.

Sophomore, CHA All-Rookie team defenseman, James Lyle returns after a solid freshman campaign along with junior Brock Meadows, sophomore Josh Jones, red-shirt freshman, Ben Finney and three incoming freshman. According to Schooley, “It is definitely going to be a good battle to see which six make it into the starting lineup every game.

GOALTENDING

A huge part of the Colonials success late in 2008-09 was now sophomore goaltender, Brooks Ostergard. "Brooks started the season last year as our third goalie, but by the end of the year, he was at the top in the CHA," said Schooley. "He made the saves he had to make, and our team played with a tremendous amount of confidence with him in net.”

Ostergard earned his first career win with a shutout victory over Bemidji State in mid-February. From that point on, Ostergard led the Colonials on a seven game unbeaten streak and into the CHA Finals. He boasted a 2.57 GAA and a .917 save percentage to make him the second best goalie in CHA action.

Freshman Eric Levine will also join Ostergard as a Colonial netminder this season. While playing in the CJHL, he led his team to a regular season championship and was named the CJHL’s Most Valuable Goalie. In the playoffs, he posted league bests in wins, saves, save percentage, shutouts and goals against average as the Playoff MVP.

SUMMARY

For the 2009-10 season, the Colonials return four All-CHA players, and 18 letterwinners. The group of 12 forwards, five defensemen and one goaltender will need to take their experience and continue their ascent to the top of the CHA. “The last year of the CHA should be one of the most competitive years in the history of College Hockey America,” said Schooley. “Every team has high end talent coming back as well as a good core of developing players.”

If the end of last year is any indication, Robert Morris will certainly be in the mix to win its first conference championship and make its first NCAA tournament appearance. With solid goaltending, an experienced defensive corps and a dangerous forward combination, the Colonials must now follow through on their team motto and KEEP CLIMBING.

Robert Morris University
Robert Morris University, founded in 1921, is a private institution located in the Pittsburgh region offering bachelor's, master's and doctorate degrees. Approximately 5,000 full- and part-time undergraduate and graduate students from nearly every state and 40 countries are enrolled at RMU.

The 230-acre campus in Moon Township, 15 minutes from Pittsburgh International Airport and 17 miles from downtown, continues to blossom and grow. A new football stadium opened in 2005 and an apartment-style residence hall opened in 2006. This year the university is breaking ground on a new business school with state-of-the-art simulated stock trading floor. Additionally, the campus offers classes online and at its Pittsburgh Center in the heart of the downtown. The 32-acre Island Sports Center on Neville Island provides two indoor and two outdoor skating rinks, an indoor driving range, exercise equipment and other athletic and conference facilities for the university and the community.

RMU built its reputation by offering strong academic programs in traditional business fields such as accounting, finance, marketing and management. To prepare students for success in a changing and competitive workforce, the university has created programs in communications, information systems, engineering, mathematics, science, education, social sciences and nursing in the past decade. The university now offers 60 undergraduate programs and 20 graduate programs.

RMU is a teaching-centered institution, featuring small classes taught by faculty members and a student-faculty ratio of 15:1.

More than 90 clubs, student organizations, fraternities, sororities, and special interest groups help students develop leadership skills, network professionally and meet new friends. RMU has 23 NCAA Division I varsity athletic programs and 17 club sports teams.

Philadelphia is compact, cultured, safe, neighborly, historic and very affordable. Besides big-city offerings like professional spectator sports, concerts, museums, amusement parks, and a thriving and varied nightlife, the region is rich with outdoor activities, including skiing, hiking, sailing, whitewater rafting and a 300-mile bike trail that stretches to Washington, D.C.

For more information, visit www.rmu.edu.

MAJORS AND DEGREES OFFERED

ACADEMIC PROGRAMS
Other programs open to qualified undergraduate students include: the Patriot Scholars University Honors Program, in which students follow an advanced curriculum including an honors seminar and thesis project; the Cooperative Education Program, in which students alternate semesters of academic study with up to four semesters of paid employment in their career field to gain extensive work experience and earn up to $35,000; and Study Abroad, which offers opportunities for international study in Australia, China, France, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Mexico, Switzerland, Turkey and the United Kingdom.

TUITION, ROOM, BOARD AND FEES
Robert Morris University has one of the lowest tuition rates of any private university in Pennsylvania. The annual tuition for first-time undergraduates in 2008-09 was $19,190, based on a 24- to 36-credit, two-semester schedule. Additional tuition charges apply for certain majors. Room and board fees are $9,880 annually, based on double occupancy and a full meal plan.

FINANCIAL AID
Robert Morris University has one of the lowest tuition rates of any private university in Pennsylvania. Plus, more than 90 percent of full-time undergraduate students receive some sort of financial aid, including grants, loans, scholarships and work-study jobs. Veterans qualifying under the new Post-9/11 GI Bill attend RMU tuition-free.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS AND ACTIVITIES
A wide range of activities and experiences is available at RMU, and students are encouraged to get involved in existing activities or establish new ones. Student organizations include academic/ professional organizations, student government, honor societies, service and philanthropic organizations, fraternities and sororities, and special interest groups and activities. RMU has several intramural sports leagues, 17 club sports, and 23 NCAA Division I intercollegiate athletics teams: basketball (M/W), cross country (M/W), field hockey (W), football (M), golf (M/W), ice hockey (M/W), lacrosse (M/W), rowing (W), soccer (M/W), softball (W), tennis (M/W), indoor and outdoor track & field (M/W), and volleyball (W).

ADMISSIONS PROCESS
Robert Morris University has a rolling admissions process. Students are considered for acceptance as soon as their application materials are received and evaluated. Applications, official transcripts, official test scores and letters of recommendation should be sent directly to: Office of Admissions, Robert Morris University, 6001 University Boulevard, Moon Township, PA 15108. Apply for free on the RMU website at www.rmu.edu.
Gregory G. Dell’Omo, Ph.D., president of Robert Morris University, presides over one of Pennsylvania’s most innovative independent institutions of higher learning. He began his tenure as president on Aug. 1, 2005.

Taking the reins of the university during a period of unparalleled growth, Dell’Omo quickly developed a clear vision for RMU as a place that provides transformational experiences for students through engaged learning. He assembled a committee of faculty, staff, students and trustees, and charged them with turning his vision into a roadmap for the future. By the end of Dell’Omo’s second year, the university had unveiled a refined mission statement, six core values, and a comprehensive five-year strategic plan to guide RMU into the year 2012. In addition, a new 10-year campus master plan was set in motion to guide RMU’s evolution to a more residential campus with a strong living-learning environment.

Dell’Omo’s tenure has been marked by a greater emphasis on internationalism in student experiences, faculty research and exchanges, and academic programs and partnerships, to better prepare students for success in today’s global society. Key achievements include accreditation of the School of Business by AACSB International – The Association to Advance College Schools of Business; accreditation of the School of Education and Social Sciences by the Teacher Education Accreditation Council; creation of the Student Engagement Transcript; increases in the number of RMU students studying abroad and the number of international students studying at RMU, and the establishment of academic partnerships with schools in Chile, China, Germany, Nicaragua, Turkey and Israel.

Dell’Omo also has committed to building the Institutional Advancement division by providing a greater focus on fundraising, alumni relations and brand building – all of which are key to supporting the university’s continued growth. In his first four years, Dell’Omo has overseen the construction or renovation of numerous buildings, the addition of several degree programs, and the launch of a new alumni magazine, athletic logo and mascot.

Known as a “people’s president,” Dell’Omo places a high level of importance on staying connected with the campus community. He has expanded the annual new student orientation and attends all freshman seminars to meet new students each fall. He holds regular Town Hall Meetings to keep faculty and staff updated on the latest university happenings, and sometimes sits in on new employee orientation sessions. A strong supporter of RMU athletics, he regularly attends Colonial football, basketball and other sporting events. He has reached out to thousands of RMU alumni by attending alumni events in Pittsburgh as well as New York, Miami, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Baltimore and Washington, D.C.

Dell’Omo came to RMU after 14 years at Saint Joseph’s University in Philadelphia, where he served as vice president for external affairs from 2002 to 2005. In that capacity, he was responsible for government and community relations, university communications and the development of joint academic programs in China. He was Saint Joseph’s associate vice president for academic affairs from 2000 to 2002 and dean of the Erivan K. Haub School of Business from 1996 to 2000, guiding the school to AACSB accreditation. He joined Saint Joseph’s in 1991 as an assistant professor of management. Before SJU, Dell’Omo served on the faculty at Canisius College and the Cornell University Extension Program. Prior to his career in academia, he spent six years working in human resources in the New York City retail industry and four years conducting research on various employment issues.

Dell’Omo holds a bachelor’s degree in economics from Montclair State University, a master’s degree in industrial relations from Rutgers and a Ph.D. in industrial relations/human resource management from the University of Wisconsin-Madison. He holds certificates from the Harvard University Institute for Educational Management and the Harvard Seminar for New Presidents.

Dell’Omo sits on the boards of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, the Pittsburgh Civic Light Opera, National Association of Corporate Directors Three Rivers Chapter, the Rutgers Food Policy Institute, the Association of Independent Colleges and Universities of Pennsylvania, and the Pennsylvania Economy League of Southwestern Pennsylvania. He has contributed to numerous academic journals and publications and lectured at conferences throughout the world. Dell’Omo remains an active consultant to universities throughout the nation on academic and management issues.

Dell’Omo and his wife, Polly, have three children – Lara, Nicholas and Vincent.

Under Coleman’s watch, the department of athletics has continued to expand and gain national attention. During the 2005-06 academic year, Robert Morris placed a total of nine student-athletes covering six sports on ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America District II teams, the most in school history.

Coleman has overseen the development of a new Robert Morris logo and mascot as well as the launching of the new official website for Colonial athletics at www.rmucolonials.com. Coleman also hired Mike Rice as the seventh basketball coach in RMU Division I history as well as the addition of field hockey head coach Olivia Netzler.

All the while, Coleman has built a winning softball program at Robert Morris over the past 19 years. During that period, RMU has won four Northeast Conference regular-season championships and six NEC Tournament titles. In 2005, Robert Morris finished with a league record of 17-3 to claim the regular-season championship, then swept through the NEC Tournament to claim its sixth title and advance to its first NCAA Tournament.

“As the longest-tenured coach at Robert Morris University, Craig has proven with his softball teams what it means to have a consistent and successful program both on the field and in the classroom,” said former Robert Morris University President Edward A. Nicholson, Ph.D. “His successful record will be an asset as he takes over as our new athletic director.”

Likewise, Coleman believes the timing was perfect for him to lead the athletic program at Robert Morris University.

“The time was right for me to make this professional change,” Coleman said at the time of his hiring. “I have always had a passion for athletics and for 15 years I held management positions in health care. As the athletic director, I can now merge these two positions into one that really excites me.”

From 1988 through 2005, Coleman worked as an assistant professor of psychiatry at the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine. From 1983 to 1989, he was the attending psychiatrist at Western Psychiatric Institute and Clinic in Pittsburgh.

Coleman earned his medical degree from The Pennsylvania State University School of Medicine in Hershey in 1983. In 1979, he earned an undergraduate degree in psychology from the University of Pennsylvania. At RMU, Coleman turned a perennial losing softball program into NEC champions. Prior to his arrival as head coach in 1991, the Colonials posted a record of 19-45 in the previous three seasons. During his 19 years as head coach, the Colonials have posted an overall record of 463-413-4 (.528), including a record of 198-78-2 (.716) in conference play.

In 2007, Coleman garnered his 400th career victory in game one of a doubleheader sweep of Akron thanks to a 3-2 victory. He guided the Colonials to an overall record of 119-62 (.657) and four conference championships in his first four years, and in 1994, his team received the first national ranking in RMU history – regardless of sport – when his team was ranked as high as No. 23 in the USA Today / National Fastpitch Coaches Association (NFCA).

Coleman’s success as head softball coach has come not only on the field, but in the classroom. His players include 11 District II Academic All-Americans, two NEC Spring Scholar-Athletes for softball (Stephani Ehrenfeld in 2000 and Nicole Aloi in 2001) and numerous NEC All-Academic Honor Roll selections. During the 1999-2000 academic year, RMU achieved the second-highest cumulative team grade point average among all NCAA Division I softball programs according to the NFCA, finishing with a 3.409 grade point average, behind only Louisiana Tech (3.571).

Prior to his appointment as head coach at Robert Morris, Coleman compiled a record of 359-158 (.694) in 16 seasons coaching summer softball, mostly with the Pittsburgh Patriots 18-and-under traveling fast-pitch team from 1986-91. He guided the Patriots of the Amateur Softball Association to three national tournaments in his final four years at the helm.
The Robert Morris University Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is not all about winning on the field or on the court. Academics is as much a triumph as the athletic competitions themselves. Robert Morris University is committed to the total development of its student-athletes.

The 2008-09 academic year followed the trend set before it as 67 Colonials were named to the Northeast Conference Fall Academic Honor Roll, 31 to the NEC Winter Academic Honor Roll and 95 to the NEC Spring Academic Honor Roll.

A trio of individuals were also named Student-Athlete of the Year by the NEC in their respective sports, as Alaina Gibson garnered the honor in volleyball, Adam Lawrence in football and Mary Kate Egan in women’s lacrosse.

In July of 2009, senior Tara Maxwell of the women’s track and field team became the second Colonial in three years to be named the NEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year. Sponsoring the league’s faculty athletic representatives, the award is bestowed annually upon the NEC male and female student-athlete who has exhausted his or her eligibility, graduated and has posted the highest cumulative grade point average at the conclusion of the academic year.

Maxwell carried a 3.99 grade point average as a manufacturing engineering major throughout her four years at Robert Morris and was one of three NEC female student-athletes to earn the award in 2009, joining Kathleen Henry of the Sacred Heart cross country program and Erin Reifsteck of the Saint Francis (Pa.) field hockey team. Maxwell joins former Colonial volleyball player Lisa Jaszka (2003-06) as a winner of the award, as Jaszka was honored in 2007 for owning a perfect 4.0 GPA as an elementary education major.

Additionally in 2008-09, Robert Morris had eight student-athletes named to their respective ESPN The Magazine District II Academic All-America Teams by the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA). Joining Gibson (volleyball), Lawrence (football) and Egan (at-large for both field hockey and women’s lacrosse) were Amanda Graham (volleyball), Mark Szymanski (football), Annie Dubovec (softball), Brooke Panepinto (softball) and Susan Perich (softball).

In all, 15 of the University’s 23 squads finished with team GPA’s of 3.0 or higher in the 2008-09 academic year, and nearly 65 percent of all RMU’s 550 student-athletes posted a 3.0 or higher grade point average.

Since 1988, a total of 15 Robert Morris student-athletes have been named the Scholar-Athlete of the Year in their respective sports, including former Colonials Jeff Witmyer (2004-08) and Jim Baughman (1996-2000) of the RMU track and field team. Witmyer was a three-time selection, earning the NEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year after the 2007 indoor season and the honor for both indoor and outdoor track and field in 2008. Baughman was awarded the 1999 NEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year for indoor track and field and was bestowed the honor again in 2000 for outdoor track and field.

Robert Morris has also placed 36 student-athletes on ESPN The Magazine District II Academic All-America Teams since 1992, including 13 individuals that were honored in consecutive years. Football has led the way with 10 student-athletes named to the ESPN The Magazine District II Academic All-America Team, followed by softball with eight honorees and volleyball with six. CoSIDA’s District II covers Delaware, the District of Columbia, Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

The reason for RMU’s success in the classroom is simple. Colonial student-athletes receive the very best support when it comes to their academic curriculum. Evening study halls are monitored by the department’s student services personnel, and academic counseling is available from both the athletic department and the University’s enrollment management office.

Graduation is the goal, and Robert Morris University strives to ensure its student-athletes attain that lofty goal.
Robert Morris University Athletics stands for success.

Since 1990, the Colonials have claimed 26 Northeast Conference regular-season championships and 30 league tournament titles among 23 sports, including seven NEC Tournament titles in volleyball, six NEC Tournament championships in softball, five regular-season titles in football and three NEC Tournament championships each in men's soccer and men's and women's basketball.

The 2008-09 athletic season saw the Colonial athletic programs continue to rank near the top of their respective conferences, as the men's basketball team claimed its second straight Northeast Conference regular-season championship and sixth overall. The Colonials went on to win their league-record sixth NEC Tournament championship and subsequent bid to the NCAA Tournament with a 48-46 win over Mount St. Mary's in the title game at the Charles L. Sewall Center in front 3,227 fans, the first sellout in school history.

Also during the 2008-09 season the Robert Morris volleyball team earned its fifth outright NEC regular-season championship and sixth overall in 2008, posting a perfect 8-0 record in league play.

The exploits of the RMU athletic program in 2008-09 followed a 2007-08 athletic season in which the men's soccer team added to its illustrious history by downing No. 1 seed Monmouth, 3-2 in overtime, to claim its third NEC Tournament title and first since 1994. The Robert Morris softball squad, under the guidance of director of athletics Craig Coleman, M.D., also captured its fourth regular-season championship, tying Long Island for the top spot with a 17-3 league record.

During the 2004-05 athletics campaign, the Colonial softball squad captured its third NEC regular-season title with a 17-3 league record, then swept through the NEC Tournament for its fifth tournament title and first appearance in the NCAA Tournament in school history.

The success RMU athletics has had in recent years followed the seasons before it, as the Colonial football team finished its 2000 season a perfect 10-0, the first perfect season title since 1992, while the women's basketball program claimed its second straight NEC Tournament championship and subsequent appearance in the NCAA Tournament.

In 2006-07, Robert Morris had one of its best seasons in Division I history, as a number of team and individual accomplishments highlighted the year. The Colonial women's basketball team completed one of the greatest turnarounds in Division I history by claiming its third NEC Tournament Championship and its first-ever NCAA Tournament bid, while the Robert Morris men's ice hockey team pulled off one of the biggest upsets in school history in January of 2007 by garnering a 4-2 victory at Notre Dame, which entered the game ranked No. 2 in the country.

Individually in 2006-07, senior Stephanie Kuhn of the RMU women's outdoor track and field team qualified for the NCAA Championships in the javelin. Kuhn, the only student-athlete to qualify for the NCAA Championships in track and field, turned the trick twice in her four years on the team, also accomplishing the feat as a freshman.

Off the field, a total of six student-athletes were named to their respective ESPN The Magazine Academic All-District II Teams in 2006-07, while senior Ray Gensler of the football team was named an Academic All-American for the second straight year, the first student-athlete in school history to earn Academic All-America honors twice.

The 2006-07 athletics campaign followed a 2005-06 season in which the men's soccer team added to its illustrious history by downing No. 1 seed Monmouth, 3-2 in overtime, to claim its third NEC Tournament title and first since 1994. The Robert Morris softball squad, under the guidance of director of athletics Craig Coleman, M.D., also captured its fourth regular-season championship, tying Long Island for the top spot with a 17-3 league record.

During the 2004-05 athletics campaign, the Colonial softball squad captured its third NEC regular-season title with a 17-3 league record, then swept through the NEC Tournament for its fifth tournament title and first appearance in the NCAA Tournament in school history.

The success RMU athletics has had in recent years followed the seasons before it, as the Colonial football team finished its 2000 season a perfect 10-0, the first perfect campaign for any sport at Robert Morris. In the process, the team won its second straight NCAA I-AA Mid-Major National Championship, according to Don Hansen's National Football Weekly Gazette. The program celebrated its 10th anniversary in 2003 and moved into its own on-campus football stadium, named Joe Walton Stadium in honor of the program's only head coach, in 2005.

The women's rowing team claimed two straight national championships in the varsity four classification at the prestigious Dad Vail Regatta in Philadelphia, Pa., in 2000 and 2001.

The trend of success by Colonial athletics in the new millennium should come as no surprise. Five teams achieved national rankings during the 1990s, with the 1994 women's softball team reaching No. 23, the 1994 men's soccer team peaking at No. 16, the 1996 football squad finishing second in the NCAA I-AA non-scholarship ranks, the 1997 football team placing third and the 1999 football team placing first.

Robert Morris University has also had several athletes continue their athletic career in professional sports. The late Tim Hall (1996) was drafted by the Oakland Raiders in the sixth round of the 1996 NFL Draft as a running back. Then, in 2001, former offensive lineman Hank Fraley (1999) became the starting center for the Philadelphia Eagles after being signed to the practice squad during the 2000 season. He currently is the starting center for the Cleveland Browns.

Men's soccer player Musa Shannon (1997) was drafted by the Tampa Bay Mutiny of Major League Soccer as the 28th overall pick in the 1997 MLS College Draft. Five other former Colonial men's soccer players have played professionally, as Steve Bell (1997) and Doug Petras (1994) saw action with the Pittsburgh Riverhounds, while Rhian Dodds (2003) plays for the Kilmarnock Football Club of the Scottish Premier League.

Athletes are not the only ties that RMU athletics has to the professional ranks. Head football coach Joe Walton came to the Colonials after 35 years of National Football League experience, including seven years as the head coach of the New York Jets. Alongside Walton is another former NFL alum in John Banaszak, who was promoted to assistant head coach in the spring of 2008. Banaszak, the former head coach at Washington & Jefferson College, was a member of Pittsburgh Steelers when the team won Super Bowls X, XIII and XIV.

Former Colonial men's soccer head coach John Kowalski also worked as the head coach for the Pittsburgh Spirit of the Major Indoor Soccer League, the Tampa Bay Mutiny of the MLS and the Pittsburgh Riverhounds of the A-League. He has come full circle, as he is now head coach of the Colonial women's team, a program that began in 1992.

The Colonial Athletic Club is Robert Morris University’s fundraising program for intercollegiate athletics. Your support will help our 23 varsity teams maintain a high level of success in the Northeast Conference and at the NCAA Division I level.

There are great perks to being a CAC member:

• Discounted tickets to home games
• Robert Morris apparel
• Admission to hospitality areas
• And much, much more!

The Colonial Athletic Club sponsors the following Robert Morris events on a regular basis:

• Robert Morris Athletic Hall of Fame
• Annual All-Sports Banquet
• Championship Banners and Trophies
• Summer Golf Outing

The Colonial Athletic Club is the best way going to show how much you care about Robert Morris University Intercollegiate Athletics. During every football game, members are invited to the “Halftime Tailgate” in the Charles L. Sewall Center adjacent to Joe Walton Stadium for a sandwich and loads of camaraderie. Indeed, membership has its privileges!

If you’re not a member, become one today.

The Department of Athletics at RMU, in coordination with the Offices of Residence Life, Student Affairs and Career Services, has established the STARS program. The goal of the program is to coordinate and provide University services and programs in order to enhance the quality of the student-athlete experience at RMU. The STARS program includes:

1. ACADEMIC DEVELOPMENT
Services are in place to support student-athletes in their academic pursuit with the goal of having each student-athlete graduate. Tutoring is provided free to student-athletes, and the Athletic Department monitors academic progress throughout each term. Each student-athlete is assigned a faculty advisor and counselor, and advising is also available through the Athletic Department. High academic performance is recognized with a T-shirt award program and the end-of-the-year team and individual academic rewards. Early registration and missed classed policies help student-athletes coordinate the demands of athletics and academics.

2. PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT
Participating in intercollegiate athletics places many demands on student-athletes. At RMU, a variety of programs and services exist to make student-athletes more aware of, and capable of dealing with, issues such as time management, health and nutrition, stress management, fiscal responsibility and interpersonal relationships. The goal is to provide student-athletes with information that helps them make informed choices.

3. CAREER DEVELOPMENT
One of the expected outcomes of a college education is the successful movement of a graduate into a career. Career guidance at RMU is provided through academic departments. At the Career Center, student-athletes can receive career counseling and participate in seminars related to job searches, resume writing and mock interviews. A job fair brings over 140 employers to the RMU campus each fall.

4. SERVICE
Individuals live within a larger community. RMU student-athletes, coaches and administrators participate in activities that contribute to the community. Past activities have included reading to elementary school students, visiting retirement homes, participating in youth sports clinics and cleaning of highways.
Purchased by Robert Morris University in the summer of 2003, the RMU Island Sports Center is the region’s premier sports and recreation destination. Located just nine miles from downtown Pittsburgh on the western tip of Neville Island, the facility is home to the RMU Division I men’s and women’s ice hockey teams, women’s crew team and men’s and women’s outdoor track and field squads.

The 32-acre campus includes two indoor ice arenas and two multipurpose rinks as well as an indoor golf driving range and Sports Dome, a track and field, mini golf course, fitness center, batting cages, pro shop and bistro.

The state-of-the-art center, which opened in 1998, has been the site of such high-profile events as the Junior Olympic Figure Skating Championship, the National Short Track Speed Skating Championships, the USA Hockey National Tier I Championships and the 2005 World Street Hockey Championships.

The RMU Island Sports Center is committed to providing the highest quality facilities, training and instruction to both the serious athlete and the casual sports enthusiast. In addition, the facility offers unique group and hospitality opportunities, perfect for both personal celebrations and corporate outings. The Hat Trick Club, open during home ice hockey games, offers season ticket holders, members of the Colonial Athletic Club and various outside groups a hospitality area to congregate during the game for refreshments and camaraderie.
Built over the course of 13 months, Joe Walton Stadium is the newest athletic facility on the Moon Township campus of Robert Morris University. The Colonials played their inaugural season at Joe Walton Stadium in 2005 and defeated Butler, 49-13, Saturday, Sept. 17, in the inaugural game.

Built at a cost of $10 million by Mosites Construction Company and owning a capacity of 3,000, Joe Walton Stadium features a 36,000-square-foot athletic administration building that holds office space for the football coaching staff, athletic administration and Olympic sport coaches. Also included in the building is a state-of-the-art weight room, equipment room, two locker rooms, three classrooms, lobby, press box and University box.

A special feature with the offices located in Joe Walton Stadium is the use of Landro Play Analyzer, a presentation device used to study game videos. Up to 50,000 plays or 115 games can be randomly accessed without ever having to use video tapes or DVD’s. Designed especially for coaches, it allows them to instantly jump to plays without having to use video tape.

The Joe Walton Stadium field covers 97,000 square feet, with the surface field turf. The turf consists of sand, rubber and film polyethylene grass-like fabric with secondary backing of high polyurethane. The field is lined for both football and soccer and also hosts field hockey and lacrosse games. The scoreboard for the stadium was provided by Institutional Specialties, a distributor of Daktronics, located in Pittsburgh, Pa.

The music and public address system was provided by Hollowood Music and Sound in McKees Rocks, Pa., and Joe Walton Stadium also includes a portal and plaza. The portal includes 160 pavers to recognize donors to the campaign to raise funds for Joe Walton Stadium, while the plaza includes three kiosks, one each for tickets, concessions and the Barnes & Noble bookstore.
The Charles L. Sewall Center for Leadership, dedicated in 1985 and named for the man who served Robert Morris University as president from 1967 until 1989, is located on the Moon Township campus. With a capacity of 3,056, the Sewall Center is home to Colonial volleyball, men’s and women’s basketball and indoor track and field programs and also houses office space for men’s and women’s soccer.

The Sewall Center is also a regional and national conference center for the training and development of business executives, serving as a focal point for providing educational services to adult learners. It also furnishes the community with a conveniently located center for seminars.

The facility also houses a 200-meter track, a full-service training room, four locker rooms, office space, an equipment room and a media room. After the Colonial basketball seasons end, the Sewall Center serves as home to Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic League (WPIAL) high school basketball playoff games as well as the annual summer Five-Star Basketball Camp.

Excitement at the Sewall Center came to a head in the springs of 1989, 1990 and 1992 when the Northeast Conference men’s basketball tournament was held there, and the Colonials won the title each time. The facility also housed the same event in 1986.

The dedication of the Sewall Center was the culmination of a $6 million campaign launched by the University in June of 1984. Seventeen months later, the inaugural game drew 2,880 fans as the Colonials fell to Duquesne University, 80-65. Nov. 30, 1985. Nevertheless, the enthusiastic response by the community facilitated the successful completion of the campaign.

The idea for a multi-purpose facility was conceived in a series of meetings between the University and community leaders. Business and industry representatives indicated the critical need for a center for executive training and development. At the same time, Moon Township business and civic leaders spoke of their need for a conveniently located center for community events.

The partnership continues through the Charles L. Sewall Center Advisory Committee, comprised of community leaders, and confirms the University’s fruitful relationship with the community it serves.

Built at a cost of $2.5 million and opened in the fall of 1998, the North Athletic Complex on RMU’s Moon Township campus serves as the home of the Robert Morris men’s and women’s soccer, men’s and women’s tennis and softball teams.

The North Athletic Complex was built after clearing a 24-acre parcel of land that was nothing more than a heavily wooded hilltop. It now consists of two natural grass soccer fields (one for games and the other for practices), nine tennis/basketball courts that are fenced and lighted, a softball field and a pavilion that features a covered area for picnics, restrooms and storage areas.

As well as hosting various Division I athletic events, the North Athletic Complex is used for intramurals and group functions. Five-Star Basketball Camp, which has hosted its annual summer camp at Robert Morris University for 28 years, uses the North Athletic Complex each summer to showcase some of the nation’s top high school talent to college coaches.

The North Athletic Complex hosted its first Northeast Conference Championship in the fall of 2003, when Central Connecticut State claimed the women’s soccer title. In the spring of 2005, Robert Morris hosted the NEC championship for softball, and the host Colonials went on to claim their sixth league title thanks to a 6-4 victory over Wagner.

Robert Morris University athletes receive medical care provided by the University's athletic training staff and various physicians throughout the Greater Pittsburgh area and surrounding community.

Colonial athletes receive care in three athletic training rooms, one in the Charles L. Sewall Center, one in Joe Walton Stadium and the other on the Robert Morris University Island Sports Center. Medical care is coordinated by head athletic trainer Michael Vittorino and assistant athletic trainers Dave Brown, Jason Daley, Deanne Stipcak and Debbie Dalsin. The staff is dedicated to providing all aspects of prevention, evaluation, management and rehabilitation of injuries.

Weekly sports medicine clinics are held by one of the sports medicine physicians. The clinic is staffed by head team physician Dr. Tanya Hagen, professor in family practice and orthopedic surgery at the University of Pittsburgh. Tom McConnell visits the University two times a week to administer rehab.

Services of the physicians in Moon Township are used in the form of Dr. Rodney Fedorchak (dentistry), Dr. Ed Carnvale (podiatry) and the West Hills Vision Center, under the direction of Joe Udvari.

The Department of Athletics at Robert Morris University provides opportunities for our student-athletes to receive a quality experience both in the classroom and in intercollegiate athletic competition. Athletics enhances the intellectual, social, and personal development of our student-athletes, helping them to grow through their experience at the University and to prepare for meaningful careers and lives. Toward this purpose, the Department of Athletics promotes academic achievement, good sporting and ethical conduct, and equitable opportunity for students and staff, including women and minorities. The guiding principle of the University is to focus on academics first; therefore we view our successes based not on wins and losses but as linked to the educational mission of the University and the welfare of our student-athletes.
