NEW MEXICO WOMEN TAKE 10TH AT NCAA CHAMPIONSHIPS

Heading out to Louisville, New Mexico head coach Joe Franklin wanted to see top-20 finishes.

And his Lobo women definitely did not fail him.

The University of New Mexico's 17th-ranked women's cross country placed 10th at the NCAA Division I Cross Country Championships in Louisville, Ky., Saturday, while the No. 21 men finished 21th.

The Lobos received outstanding performances on the women's side, including an All-American run out of Josephine Moultrie, while the men struggled to a 21th-place finish despite Luke Caldwell earning All-American status.

"It was a great day to be a University of New Mexico cross country runner," Franklin said. "Starting off with the women, the women ran excellently; the best race of the year by far, no doubt. On the men's side, they finished 21st. They had some issues."

The women placed 10th overall, scoring 341 points. Senior Josephine Moultrie led the Lobos at E.P. "Tom" Sawyer State Park, placing 30th overall with a 20:11.1 time over the 6-kilometer course.

Junior Charlotte Arter continued her streak of second-place team finishes, placing 51st overall with a 20:23.8 time. Senior Lacey Oeding was close behind, as she crossed the finish line in 20:30.3 to place 67th.

Seniors Shawna Winnegar (135th, 21:01.6) and Imogen Ainsworth (168th, 21:14.9) also scored for the Lobos, who posted a team score in the 300s for the third time in the last four years. Kirsten Follett (175th, 21:19.8) and Chloe Anderson (230th, 21:48.8) also ran for the Lobos.

The Lobos have placed top-ten at the national championships for the third straight year after placing fifth in 2010 and ninth last year.

On the men's side, the Lobos were paced by junior Luke Caldwell, who covered the 10K course in 29:52.9 to place 27th overall.

Caldwell was followed up by Mountain West Freshman of the Year Elmar Engholm as he placed 85th with a 30:36.7 clocking.

Sam Evans (126th, 30:57.2), Patrick Zacharias (133rd, 31:00.4) and Donovan Torres (223rd, 32:06.6) rounded out the Lobos' scorers. New Mexico was without junior Adam Bitchell at the finish line and leader Sean Stam worked through an off day.

Bitchell, who had been dealing with a bout of food poisoning, dropped out after the 4K mark, while Stam only managed a 32:14.1 time, placing him 227th out of the 245 runners with times.

Despite that, New Mexico nearly halved its team score from last year, going from a last-place 885 points in 2011 to 473 this year. This is the Lobos best finish since placing 16th in 2010. New Mexico finished 31st in 2011 and posted a program-best tie for eighth in 2009.

2012 CROSS COUNTRY

MEET NOTES

POLL SITTING

The University of New Mexico men's and women's cross country teams remained ranked in the final U.S. Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches Association national rankings released Nov. 13. The women check in at 17th in the nation, while the men are tabbed at 21st.

While the USTFCCCA does not release updated rankings after the national championships, it does recognize teams' finishes at the NCAA's as their final standing of the season. With the Lobos placing 10th on the women's side and 21st on the men's, UNM will remain in the top-30 at season's end.

The Lobo men are also one of only 24 Division I men's track programs to be ranked the entire year, while the UNM women were one of just 27 teams to have either been ranked or been receiving votes the whole season.

New Mexico is also the only non-BSC school with both teams ranked in the top 25 in the final poll and finishing top-25 at the national championships. The Lobos are also the only school from a non-BSC conference that has been ranked the entire season starting on Sept. 11.

CALDWELL, MOULTRIE EARN USTFCCCA ALL-AMERICAN NODS

A pair of University of New Mexico cross country runners have been named All-Americans by the U.S. Track & Field and Cross Country Coaches Association (USTFCCCA) for their performances at the 2012 NCAA Division I Cross Country Championships in Louisville, Ky.

Overall finish at the NCAA Championships is the determining factor in All-American status, as the top 40 individuals from both men's and women's races the recognition from the USTFCCCA.

For the Lobos, junior Luke Caldwell took the honor on the men's side, while for the women, senior Josephine Moultrie earned the plaudit.

Caldwell, a junior transfer from Betchworth, England, clocked a 29:52.0 time on the 10-kilometer course, good enough to place 27th overall and lead the men to a 21st-place team finish. Caldwell is the first cross country All-American from UNM since Keith Gerrard earned the honor in 2010 with a 40th-place finish.

Caldwell's 27th-place run was also the best from a Lobo at the NCAA Championships since Jacob Kirwa posted a 10th-place time at the 2009 championships.

The All-American nod is also the fourth accolade for Caldwell in 2012, as he was also named First Team All-Mountain, Mountain West Male Athlete of the Year and USTFCCCA All-Region.

Moultrie also wrapped up a sensational season at E.P. 'Tom' Sawyer State Park in Louisville when she covered the women's 6K course in 20:11.1 to place 30th overall. A senior from Glasgow, Scotland, Moultrie is just the sixth women in UNM history to earn All-American status, but is also the third in the last three years, joining Natalie Gray (2010, 15th) and Ruth Senior (2010, 33rd).

Like Caldwell, Moultrie earned her fair share of awards her final season at UNM, as she was named First-Team All-MW and USTFCCCA All-Region to go along with her All-American nod.

2012 CROSS COUNTRY MEET NOTES

LOBOS HONORED BY CONFERENCE

Lobos Josephine Moultrie, Luke Caldwell and Sean Stam earned recognition from the Mountain West for their performances in races contested from Sept. 17-30, 2012 and Oct. 8-16, 2012.

In the Sept. 17-30 edition, Moultrie was selected for her first Mountain West Women's Cross Country Athlete of the Week honor, while Caldwell earned MW Men's Cross Country Co-Athlete of the Week, the first in his career.

Moultrie placed fourth at the highly-competitive Notre Dame Invitational over the weekend with a 5-kilometer time of 16:46, the fastest 5K time in the MW this season. Caldwell also posted a strong showing at Notre Dame, placing 12th with a 5-mile time of 23:59.

Two weeks later, the Lobos were back at it. Moultrie earned her second Mountain West Women's Cross Country Athlete of the Week honor in the past three weeks, while Stam was selected for MW Men's Cross Country Co-Athlete of the Week, his first career honor.

Moultrie blazed to a conference-best 19-minute, 56-second time in the women's 6-kilometer run at the Wisconsin adidas Invitational, placing ninth individually. Stam ran a 23:59 in the 8K in Madison (the first sub-24 minute 8K in the MW since 2010), pacing the No. 12 Lobos to an eighth-place team finish..

BACK-TO-BACK PRESEASON FAVORITES

After being shut out of the preseason conference number one spot for over a decade, the men's and women's squads have been named preseason favorite for the second consecutive year. The New Mexico men's squad seized the top spot in the Mountain West's preseason poll (see top left) by earning 24 points and 4 first-place votes. On the women's side, the Lobos captured seven first-place votes and 63 total points to earn the top position.

"It's a great honor," said Head Coach Joe Franklin. "I think it's a testament to what our kids have done the last three or four years in making progress with cross country at the University of New Mexico."

ABOUT THE 2012 LOBOS

- The men are one of the deepest teams in the west (if not the nation) and are led by 2011 All-MW runner Sean Stam and a bevy of talented transfers. The men are looking for big seasons from Arizona transfer Patrick Zacharias, and UK transfers Adam Bitchell and Luke Caldwell. Sam Evan, a two-year letterwinner and freshman Donovan Torres and Elmar Engholm also project to contribute for the Lobos.
- The women don't return quite a deep of a squad, but still have reloaded with some newcomers to run alongside some proven veterans. The Lobos look for leadership—and good finishes—from senior Lacy Oeding, senior Josephine Moultrie and senior Shawna Winnegar. There is talent in returning sophomore Kirsten Follett and first-year transfers from England, Joanne Harvey and Charlotte Arter.
- New Mexico is hot off of sweeping the team titles at the 2011 Mountain West Cross Country Championships. The women notched their fourth straight conference title dating back to 2008 while the men tallied their third-straight conference title since 2009. The men and women have also done well at NCAA meets, including the women's back-to-back NCAA Regionals wins. The women have also competed at four consecutive national championships, while the men have ran at three straight.
- Head coach Joe Franklin has also seen great success while at New Mexico, having won MW Coach of the Year four times on the women's side (2008-11) and twice on the men's (2009, 2011). Franklin was also named Regional coach for both genders in 2010 and for the women in 2011.
