QUICKLY ABOUT NEW MEXICO

*New Mexico has qualified for their eighth NCAA Tournament berth in the last 10 years, and it is the seventh time in head coach Jeremy Fishbein's tenure that the team has made it this far.

*The Lobos went 5-1-3 in their last nine, the only loss coming on the back-end of a back-to-back game against a team that was coming off a bye.

*The Lobos defeated UNLV for the third time on the season, and the second time in overtime.

*This year marks the second straight year the Lobos have qualified for the NCAA Tournament.

*Last year in the NCAA Tournament the Lobos lost to Portland in overtime in the opening road 2-1.

MPSF TOURNAMENT RECAP

The University of New Mexico defeated UNLV in the opening round of the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation Tournament on Thursday 1-0 in overtime before losing less than 24 hours later 2-0 to Cal State Bakersfield, but the one tournament win was just enough to get them into the field of 48.

Against UNLV, the game marked the second straight contest between to two as UNM won the final game of the regular season 3-2 in Vegas. In the tournament, the game was tightly contested and regulation ended tied at 0-0. With 2:12 remaining in the first overtime, Josh Caffey netted the game-winning goal off of assists from Travis Campbell and Michael Reed for the 1-0 sudden-death win.

The win pushed UNM's unbeaten streak to eight at 5-0-3, and seven of those games were shutouts, all recorded by Justin Holmes. For Caffey, it was his team leading fourth goal of the season, and it marked his fifth career goal as well.

Bouncing back the next day against a rested Cal State Bakersfield squad proved a little too much though, as the Roadrunner eliminated the Lobos 2-0 in the semifinals. Gyasi Zardes picked up both goals for CSUB, and Justin Holmes registered one save for the Lobos after getting five in the shutout the day before.

In the end, the Lobos earned an NCAA Tournament berth, joining Sacramento State, who defeated the Roadrunners in the tournament title game, and Denver, who also lost in the semifinals, into the field of 48.

ALL-MPSF TEAMS

The Lobos got five on the 2010 MPSF All-Conference team, led by first teamer Lance Rozeboom. Michael Reed and David Murphy were named to the second team, and Michael Green and David Holmes were picked as honorable mention.

HOPEFULLY FAMILIARITY DOESN'T BREED CONTEMPT

While the Lobos and Creighton have not played since 1997 (the Blue Jays lead the series 5-0), that doesn't mean these two programs don't know anything about each other. Quite the contrary, they know each other quite well.

Creighton has three coaching staff members with ties to UNM, Jeremy Fishbein, and Albuquerque. Creighton head honcho Jamie Clark started his collegiate coaching career with a four year stint as an assistant under Fishbein at UNM from 2002-05. Adding to that, former Lobo great Jeff Rowland is now an assistant at Creighton. Rowland set numerous school records and finished as the MAC Hermann Trophy runner-up as a senior in 2005.

Clark and Rowland were both with UNM at the same time, and combining with Fishbein, the program went 61-16-8 and got to the championship game in 2005 before losing 1-0 to Maryland.

In addition, Creighton's volunteer assistant coach Robbie C'deBaca is an Albuquerque native and started his collegiate soccer career at New Mexico in 2003 before transferring, ironically, to Maryland.

TIE ME A RIVER

Three consecutive ties is a pretty rare occurrence. Three consecutive 0-0 double-overtime times? That goes beyond the realm of rare...as in it has never happened before.

The previous NCAA men's Division I record for consecutive 0-0 double-overtime time ties was two, and it was accomplished many times. But never in the history of the NCAA has it happened three times, until last weekend when UNM's defense, and in a way their offense, did the trick.

The three straight gave UNM four scoreless double-overtime ties for the season, as the Lobos tied Harvard 0-0 back in early September. The four scoreless draws tied the NCAA record for that category as well. Colgate was the first program to have four scoreless ties in a season (going back-to-back once), and that was in 2006. Last year UIC twice had back-to-back scoreless ties, giving them four as well.

OVERTIME IS LOBO TIME

The Lobos tend to do well in overtime, and 2010 has showed no signs of betraying that thought. The Lobos improved to 2-0-5 in overtime this season, and 25-6-18 in overtime all-time under Jeremy Fishbein with their conference tournament win over UNLV in overtime. In fact, both of UNM's overtime wins this season were against UNLV, as they beat the Rebels 2-1 in the conference opener at the UNM Soccer Complex.

The most recent overtime win was the 41st in program history, as the Lobos are now 41-23-40. Dating back to 2008, the Lobos are now 7-2-5 in their last 14 overtime games as well.

WE WILL SELL YOU THE WHOLE SEAT, BUT YOU WILL ONLY NEED THE EDGE

The University of New Mexico has played 19 regular season games this year, and 16 have been decided by one goal or fewer. The only games decided by more than that, which technically this season would count as blowout wins, were New Mexico's 3-1 win over #20 Georgetown on Sept. 10 and a 2-0 win over Seattle on Oct. 22. UNM lost to Bakersfield 2-0 as well for their only loss by more than a goal.

Being in one goal games is a good thing, because the sign of a good coach is how he or she does in close games. Apparently, this only confirms that Jeremy Fishbein is one of the best in the business, as New Mexico has an all-time mark in one goal games under Fishbein of 70-32, a .686 winning percentage (not factoring ties into that one).

KINDA SERIOUS ABOUT BEING NEW MEXICO'S TEAM

The New Mexico men's soccer roster continues to be loaded with native New Mexicans. Head coach Jeremy Fishbein and his staff have 11 student-athletes from the Land of Enchantment, including five true freshmen in 2010.

DE-CAFFEY-NATED

Josh Caffey scored the game-winning goal against UNLV in overtime, and in reality, the fact that it was the game-winner shouldn't be a shock. The goal was the fourth of the season and fifth of Caffey's career, and every single goal he has ever scored in his two seasons in college have been the game-winners.

They have all been important to, as three were the only goals in 1-0 wins for New Mexico.

LOBOS AGAINST THE FIELD

New Mexico was 2-2-2 against teams in this year's NCAA Tournament field, winning over Georgetown and Denver, losing to Dartmouth and Denver, and tying Sacramento State and UC Santa Barbara. UNM also beat Tulsa, who made the field, in the preseason.

HEAD COACH JEREMY FISHBEIN

Fishbein is in his 17th year as a college head coach and his ninth at UNM. The Cincinnati, Ohio, native comes into the 2010 season with a 206-98-26 (.664) record that includes seven years at Fort Lewis College in Durango, Colo., two seasons at the University of the Incarnate Word in San Antonio, Texas, and eight years at UNM. His record at New Mexico stands at 109-38-16 (.718). He was introduced as the Lobo's fourth coach in July 2002 after the retirement of Klaus Weber. Fishbein played college soccer for Richmond and Cincinnati before graduating from UC-Santa Barbara in 1989.
