Lobos Raise Close to $5,000 for Women's Cancer Research!!

On February 9th, the Lobos held their annual Play4Kay/Think Pink game to raise money and awareness for Women's Cancers. The team wore pink uniforms that were auctioned off to the UNM Cancer Hospital. The Lobos also raised money for the Play4Kay Foundation. Kay Yow was a legendary women's basketball coach at NC State University who battled cancer and did a lot to raise awareness for women's cancers.

Thank you to all who donated money for this great cause!
