2003-2004 OUTLOOK

The Old Dominion University men's golf squad returns six lettermen from last year's Colonial Athletic Association championship team that placed 15th at the NCAA West Regionals a year ago. But gone, because of graduation are two important cogs in that success in two-time CAA Player of the Year Geoffrey Harris, and Chris Piercy. Both players were Academic All-Americans as well.

The Monarch returnees include; seniors Robert Fournier, Jonathan Kent and Christopher Kline, junior Leighton Harris and sophomores Jack Babashanian, Nick Kenney and Gregory Sampson.

Fournier and Sampson have been ODU's top golfers in two events each during the fall of 2003, while Nick Kenney led the Monarchs in one. Fournier placed 18th at the Carolina First Reliance tournament in Florence, SC., and tied for 32nd at the Mid Pines Collegiate in Pinehurst, NC.

Greg Sampson took fourth at the Mission Inn Tournament in Orlando, FL., and 22nd at the ODU/Seascape Collegiate. In the Duke Classic, Nick Kenney took 16th. Adam Condello placed seventh at the Mission Inn tournament, while Robert Fournier took 13th at the Mission Inn tournament.

Joining the Monarch family are freshmen Kevin Bryce from Missisauga, Ontario, Kyle MacKenzie from Listowell, Ontario and Garrett Pike from Sterling, VA. Pike is a three-time Dulles District champion at Potomac High School. As a junior, Pike captured the Virginia AA State championship. Mackenzie took third in his Province, district and at the Canadian juniors last year. Kevin Bryce won four tournaments and was the Canadian Independent School's Champion. As a team, the Monarchs had three top ten finishes in five fall events. The Monarchs captured the Mission Inn Tournament, took ninth at the Carolina First Reliance and tenth at the ODU/Seascape.

Last year, the Monarchs captured their first ever CAA Championship with a sudden death playoff win over UNC Wilmington. The Monarchs then competed in their first ever NCAA Tournament as a team and tied Stanford for 15th in the West Regional.

Once again, the Monarchs will be playing some of the toughest competition in the Southeast this season as they look to continue the proud tradition of success that has become a staple of the Old Dominion golf program.

"Even though we lost our top two players from last years squad to graduation, this team has a lot of depth and talent," said head coach Murray Rudisill. "Our goal is to repeat as conference champions again."

Dr. Murray Rudisill

Head Coach

A five-time conference and three-time Virginia State Coach of the Year, Dr. Murray Rudisill has been the head coach at Old Dominion University for 28 years. During his tenure, the Monarch program has grown into one of the top rated teams in the Southeast.

That was no more evident than last year. The Monarchs captured their first ever Colonial Athletic Association championship with a sudden death playoff win over UNC Wilmington. That earned the Monarchs their first ever NCAA team tournament appearance. The Monarchs tied for 15th at the West Regionals. Geoffrey Harris was named CAA Player of the Year for the second straight time and also earned All-Region honors. Harris was also one of five finalists for the prestigious Byron Nelson Award.

Rudisill earned CAA Coach of the Year honors last year which adds to his previous honors in 1999 and 2000 along with Coach of the Year honors in the Sun Belt in 1984 and 1989. He was selected Virginia College Coach of the Year by the Portsmouth Sports Club in 1988, and his fellow coaches in the State of Virginia have selected him Coach of the Year in the state in 1988, 2000 and 2003.

Rudisill has served on the board of Directors for the Virginia State Golf Association, and is serving his fourth, five-year term as chairman of the Virginia State Golf Coaches Association. Additionally, he has served as chairman for the selection committee for the NCAA Golf District III. Rudisill is a member of the board of trustees of College Golf Fellowship.

Two of Rudisill's former golfers, Jim McGovern and Joe Daley qualified for the PGA tour in 1998. In 1991, Jon Hurst became the first Monarch to qualify at the NCAA Division I Championships in Monterey, CA., and earned All-American honors. Hurst along with Alan Schulte, a two-time Sun Belt Conference champion are both in The ODU Sports Hall of Fame.

Rudisill has coached back-to-back CAA Rookie's of the Year in Michael Hospodar in 1999 and Geoffrey Harris in 2000. The 1999 Monarch squad ranked first in the nation in par three scoring at 3.11. The 2000 squad lost the CAA Championships by one stroke and ranked in the top ten in the district and the nation's top 50.

In 2002, Geoffrey Harris ranked as high as second nationally with a stroke average at 70.0 after the fall season, and later competed in the prestigious Palmer Cup for native Great Britain against team USA.

Strengthening his reputation as an excellent golfer with top performances in regional and amateur events, Rudisill has teamed with Old Dominion Hall of Fame golfer J.P. Leigh to win over 50 tournaments in the area.

A native of Gastonia, NC, Rudisill is a 1960 graduate of North Carolina State University where he was a member of the golf team. Rudisill earned his masters degree from the University of North Carolina and moved to Hampton Roads and the Tidewater Community College System in 1968. He was awarded a doctorate in Curriculum/Instruction from the University of Florida in 1972 and joined the Old Dominion faculty that same year.

MONARCHS IN THE PROS

A number of Monarch golfers have participated on various professional tours. Jim McGovern ('88), a two-time All-Sun Belt performer captured his first PGA title with a sudden death victory over John Huston in the 1993 Houston Open. He won the title on the second hole of the playoff, sinking a 25-foot birdie put. His previous best was a fourth in the 1992 St. Jude's Classic. J.P.
