About Old Dominion University

At Old Dominion University we understand that there's more to education than books and classrooms alone can provide.

We are a versatile university, committed to our students, their education, personal development, and overall success.

Because of our location, Old Dominion can offer programs that other universities can't. The city of Norfolk is situated on the Chesapeake Bay and within a short drive to Virginia Beach and the Outer Banks of North Carolina; students use the local water as their oceanography classroom. Specialized engineering courses that deal with bay dredging and bridge building are also offered. Our campus is thirty miles from the NASA/Langley Research Center, and many students learn from shared faculty, facilities, and research technology. The Hampton Roads area is home to internationally recognized business and industry giants, setting the stage for courses in business and international relations. Students enjoy a lively cultural community with theater, music and museums.

With historic areas such as Williamsburg and Yorktown nearby, students can experience their lessons first hand. Old Dominion University is a great place to prepare for the future.

Welcome Letter

When Jim Jarrett arrived on the campus of Old Dominion University in the fall of 1967 as a Health and Physical Education professor, he had little idea that his tenure would be counted in decades. During that time span, he has led the program from a well respected NCAA Division II member to a nationally respected Division I power that has captured 25 national championships.

Jarrett began his 36th year as athletic director in 2006, taking over the reigns in 1970 when Bud Metheny stepped down from that position. As one of the youngest athletic directors in the nation at that time, Jarrett quickly began to make a name for himself and ODU. He committed early on to a philosophy of "selective excellence," whereby the department "selected" its competitive sports and committed itself financially, academically and competitively to the sports it felt the University could best excel.

In 1974, Jarrett became the first athletic director in the state of Virginia to award grant-in-aids to women student-athletes. It was a bold move at the time for a young athletic director and equally young University, but one that paid great dividends. Just five years later, in 1979, the Lady Monarchs won the first of three national championships in women's basketball, and led the nation in attendance.

Under his leadership, the department's athletic venues have tripled and are considered state of the art facilities. They include the construction of the Bud Metheny Baseball Complex, the Sailing Center, the Athletic Administration Building and the 8,500 seat Constant Convocation Center. Currently, Jarrett is overseeing construction of the ODU Soccer Building, an indoor tennis facility and renovations to the Athletic Administration Building, which include a new weight room, training room and academic advising area.

For all his efforts, Jarrett's has been honored many times by national and local groups. Most recently, Jarrett was given Lifetime Achievement awards from NACDA and VaSID. In 2003, he was named the Southeast Regional Athletic Director of the Year by NACDA. Other awards he's received include the Collegiate Director's Award from the Women's Basketball Coaches Association, and the Norfolk Sports Club Man of the Year. He served as a member of the NCAA Women's Basketball Committee and is a past president of the Colonial Athletic Association and the Virginia Sports Hall of Fame.

An avid golfer and tennis player, Jarrett and his wife Sugie reside in Norfolk.

Why Monarchs?

Many people have wondered how the Old Dominion University athletic teams came to be officially known as the Monarchs.

For many years, the athletic teams of the Norfolk division of the College of William & Mary (as Old Dominion was formerly called) were known as the Braves. This was a derivation of the William & Mary nickname of Indians. As Old Dominion achieved its own four-year status and saw its enrollment surpass that of its Williamsburg neighbor, it was no longer suitable or acceptable to have its teams called the Braves.

The name Monarchs evokes much of the early history of the Commonwealth of Virginia and of Old Dominion's mother institution, the College of William & Mary. The nickname "Old Dominion" was first coined to the Virginia colony by King Charles II after Virginia's loyalty to the crown during the English Civil War. Furthermore, William III and Mary II, whose patronage helped found the College of William & Mary in Virginia in 1663, ruled England at the invitation of Parliament as "joint monarchs."

The Monarch used by Old Dominion has a royal crown on a lion's head, representing an historic past and a strong future.

Supporting ODU Tennis

"Enhancing the opportunity for excellence."

RECRUITMENT GOAL

The Old Dominion tennis program strives to recruit talented student-athletes with athletic ability that can compete for conference championships and high national rankings. In addition, the program looks for and expects a high level of academic success and community involvement. The program's success is judged on how well the student-athletes do in college and after college. In addition to representing Old Dominion University, the tennis program is also representing the Hampton Roads area. The tennis program would like to thank the many people who have supported the tennis program over the years and for their continued support.

COMMITMENT TO THE COMMUNITY

The Old Dominion tennis program has participated in various tennis clinics throughout the Hampton Roads community and other community service projects. The student-athlete in the tennis program realizes the meaning and importance of being a part of the Hampton Roads Community.

ON-COURT ACCOMPLISHMENTS

(9) CAA Players of the Year, (5) CAA Tournament MVP awards, (3) CAA Rookie of the Year, (1) men's team CAA Championship, (1) women's team CAA Championship, (1) NCAA women's team appearance, (7) individual NCAA singles appearances, (4) NCAA doubles appearance, (5) All-Americans, (2) men's Virginia State team championships, (1) ITA National Clay Court Champion, several individual players have been ranked in the ITA Singles/Doubles National & Regional Rankings along with a player earning the #1 National singles ranking. Both the men and women's tennis teams have earned high national and regional team rankings. As a result of the student-athletes success the monarch coaching staff has earned several "Coach of the Year" awards.

ACADEMIC ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Over 30 Academic All-Americans since 1994, over 40 CAA All-Academic team members, (2) Verizon/Cosida Academic All-American Team. A large percentage of the tennis team consistently earns Dean List honors.

DAVIS CUP, FEDERATION CUP, & GRAND SLAMS

Six former Monarchs and one former assistant coach have represented their country in Davis Cup or Federation Cup play. A former Monarch played in the main draw of the Australian Open.

NCAA HOST & OTHER TENNIS ACTIVITIES

The tennis program has hosted the NCAA team first and second round in 1995 and 2001. In addition to junior tennis camps, the tennis program has hosted USTA $10,000 Women's Satellites, USTA Adult League Championships, USTA CTC Junior Rally, various USTA junior tournaments, and Nick Bollettieri Summer Tennis Academy.

SCHOLARSHIP FUNDRAISING

Scholarships for the men and women's tennis team are funded from the university, annual contributions, scholarship events and interest off of endowments given to the intercollegiate foundation for tennis scholarships. The NCAA allows tennis to utilize 4.5 to men scholarships and 8 scholarships for women's tennis. To fully fund the tennis scholarships at Old Dominion for one year would cost approximately $275,000.

Join The Monarch Pride

ANNUAL FUND

Annual cash gifts are essential for the present success of the program. Annual cash gifts allow the tennis program to offer scholarships to current recruits.

ENDOWED SCHOLARSHIPS

Endowments provide long-term success for the tennis program. The approximate 5% interest off of the endowment provides funds for scholarships and a portion of the interest is put back into the endowment allowing it to grow with inflationary cost. An endowment can be named after an individual and can be established with a $25,000 contribution. Various recognition is offered for endowments depending upon the level. The tennis program currently has endowments in the name of Sugie Jarrett, Robert Furniss, Tom Scott, and Maurice Steingold. Contribution can be made to the existing endowments, the general endowment, or create a new endowment. The tennis program has approximately $500,000 in endowed scholarships.

SCHOLARSHIP EVENTS

The tennis program's flagship Old Dominion Scholarship Tennis Tournament provides the opportunity for the tennis program to associate with the tennis community and assists in providing annual money for scholarship. In addition to participation, the tournament provides sponsorship opportunities.

There are naming right opportunities for the eight indoor and twelve outdoor courts at the Old Dominion Tennis Complex.
