Streaks, Trends and Notes:
- Hofstra enters the 2009-10 season with high hopes after winning 16 games a season ago, ranking the Pride as one of the nation’s most improved teams (see chart below). Hofstra returns four starters amongst its eight returning letterwinners, while also bringing in the nation’s 41st best recruiting class.
- Hofstra was one of 15 schools nationally last season to lead their conference in both field goal percentage and field goal percentage defense.
- Over its last 10 seasons, Hofstra is 6-4 in its first home game of the season, 4-6 in season openers and 2-8 in its first road games of the season. Since becoming a Division I program in 1982, Hofstra is 13-4 in season openers.
- Hofstra has made a three-pointer in 308 of its last 313 games. The current streak is 71 games in a row.
- The Pride is 55-9 in its last 64 games when they hold their opponent under 60 points (13-5 last season, 5-3 in 2007-08 season, 20-1 in 2006-07, 11-0 in 2005-06 and 5-0 in 2004-05).
- Since becoming a Division I program in the 1982-83 season, Hofstra is 44-9 all-time when scoring 80 or more points in a game (have won 13 straight when scoring 80 or more).

We Preach Academics: For the second straight year Hofstra led the CAA in All-Academic selections as the Pride had three players named to either the first or second team.
High-Flying freshmen: The Hofstra Women’s Basketball program’s heralded freshman class of Candace Bond and Shante Evans was ranked as the 41st best recruiting class in the nation according to Chris Hansen of ESPN/HoopGurlz, it was announced in late July. “I am thrilled that our recruiting class was recognized so highly by ESPN/HoopGurlz,” commented Hofstra University Head Women’s Basketball Coach Krista Kilburn-Steveskey at the time. “I would like to thank my staff, especially the work of Danielle Santos, for their efforts in recruiting such top student-athletes to Hofstra University. We know that each student-athlete was recruited individually and now the task will be to get all the players on the same page.” Fortified by the signing of Evans, who was ranked 54th in the ESPNU 100 - Class of 2009, Hofstra had the second-highest ranked recruiting class of any non-BCS school (Middle Tennessee State #31) and was nine spots better than the next Colonial Athletic Association (CAA) school on the list (James Madison #50).

Early Signings: Head Women’s Basketball Coach Krista Kilburn-Steveskey today announced the signing of three student-athletes to National Letters of Intent as part of her fourth recruiting class at Hofstra. The trio includes Kate Loper (Post Falls, ID), Ngwanma (Anma) Onyeuku (Fayetteville, GA) and Annie Payton (Newark, NJ). All three will commence their Hofstra academic and athletic careers in the fall of 2010. “This 2010 recruiting class adds another dimension to the Pride. The versatility of all three players will complement the front line size and backcourt skills of the current team,” commented Kilburn-Steveskey. “All three players were highly sought after by top programs in the country and we are thrilled to have such a talented recruiting class join our Hofstra Women’s Basketball program.”

Onyeuku will come to Hofstra from Fayette County High School, where she has led the Tigers to three consecutive regional championships. The 5-10 forward enters her senior year coming off a season in which she averaged 16.8 points and 7.9 rebounds. Kilburn-Steveskey also attended Fayette County High School. Onyeuku already has scored 1,000 points in her career for the Tigers and earned second-team all-state honors as a junior.

“Anma Onyeuku is loaded with talent and athleticism. She runs the floor, plays up tempo and has great leaping ability for an undersized forward. Her work ethic is contagious and she should be an impact player with the Pride.”

Payton will join the Pride after her senior season at Camden (NJ) High School, where she almost averaged a double-double as a junior, compiling 21.5 points and nine rebounds per game in earning team MVP honors. At 5-9, Payton can play either guard or forward and earned All-South New Jersey honors last season. Payton also averaged 19 points as sophomore, garnering a spot on the Olympic Conference first team.

“Annie Payton brings quickness and explosiveness to our program. Her versatility will be an added plus for the Pride, and her work ethic and enthusiasm for the game is a positive addition."

Loper will look to fortify the Pride’s guard depth after finishing her senior year at Post Falls High School in Idaho. As a junior, Loper averaged 15 points and six rebounds, improving off a quality sophomore campaign in which she averaged 15.6 points and 4.1 rebounds. Loper is expected to finish as a six-time letterwinner for the Trojans, playing four years of basketball and two years of golf. The 5-11 guard is coming off a season in which she earned first team All-North Idaho honors for the second straight season.

“Kate Loper is known for her three-point shooting ability and her tenacity on the court. She has the quickest release of any player I have seen in a long time. Her range is going to make an undersized forward. Her work ethic is contagious and she should be an impact player with the Pride.”

2009-10 CAA WOMEN’S BASKETBALL PREDICTED ORDER OF FINISH

1. Drexel
2. James Madison
3. Old Dominion
4. Delaware
5. VCU
6. Towson
7. Hofstra
8. UNC Wilmington
9. William and Mary
10. Northeastern
11. Georgia State
12. George Mason

From Long Range:
Senior Sam Brigham and sophomore Nicole Capurso have given the Hofstra Women's Basketball team a lethal threat from three-point territory. Brigham currently ranks ninth all-time in three-pointers at Hofstra with 87 and needs just one trifecta to tie Lizanne Murphy (2003-07) for eighth all-time. Capurso drained 43 three-pointers during her freshman campaign and will be primed to enter the career top 10 chart by the end of her sophomore season.

Did You Know?:
Hofstra’s .724 winning percentage (21-8) in its first Division I season of 1982-83 is the 39th best winning percentage of any team in its first season of Division I basketball.

From Far and Wide:
The 2009-10 roster for the Hofstra Women’s Basketball team features 11 student-athletes from eight different states.

National Spotlight:
Jess Fuller made quite an impression in her first season in a Hofstra uniform as the junior college transfer earned second team All-Colonial Athletic Association honors. Fuller ranked high in a pair of national categories as well, as she was fourth in the nation in blocked shots per game (3.2) and 11th in the nation in field goal percentage (58.4). She led Hofstra and the CAA in both categories. Fuller missed the majority of the 2007-08 season with an injury.

NCAA Rankings:
In the final NCAA statistical rankings summary of 2008-09, Hofstra (as a team) was ranked in the top 100 in:
- Scoring Defense (87th)
- Field Goal Percentage (58th)
- Field Goal Percentage Defense (15th)
- Assists Per Game (99th)
- Blocked Shots Per Game (Second)

Individually
- Niki Williams, 78th in Assists Per Game
- Jess Fuller, fourth in Blocked Shots Per Game
- Joelle Connelly, 38th in Blocked Shots Per Game
- Jess Fuller, 11th in Field Goal Percentage

The Century Mark:
Senior guard Sam Brigham is just 12 games shy of 100 played during her career.

#1 Ranked Opponents:
Hofstra University is one of three schools nationally to have its basketball teams face both preseason #1 teams during the 2009-10 season. The Hofstra Men's Basketball team opens its 2009-10 campaign on Friday, November 13 when they face Kansas at 7 p.m. (central time) in Phog Allen Fieldhouse. The Jayhawks were picked first in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll recently. The Pride Women's Basketball team, which opens its season on Monday, November 16 at home against Buffalo (7 p.m.), will face Connecticut on Friday, November 27 at 7:30 p.m. in Storrs, Connecticut (Gampel Pavilion). The Huskies received all 31 first place votes and were picked first in the preseason USA Today/ESPN Coaches Poll released recently.
