FINN LEADS IN EXHIBITION
Sophomore guard Trey Finn led the Red Wolves in scoring during preseason action averaging 14.0 ppg and turned in a team-high 16 point performance against Ouachita Baptist. Finn also averaged 5.0 rebounds per game which ranked second behind Adams. Finn averaged 7.8 points per game last year and 6.5 rebounds per game.

THE SEASON
The ASU men’s basketball team will kick off the 84th season and third season under head coach John Brady when they open regular season action against Ole Miss on Nov. 12. ASU will host a total of 15 dates throughout the season including marquee league matchups against Western Kentucky (Jan. 1), Middle Tennessee (Jan. 13), Denver (Feb. 5), North Texas (Feb. 24) and against in-state rival UALR (Feb. 26).

NEW LOOK BENCH
ASU also got a new look on the end of the bench as two new coaches will be alongside Brady for the season after joining the program earlier this summer. “New” may be a misleading term as both these coaches bring a wealth of knowledge to the program. Isaac Brown begins his tenure as associate head coach and comes to ASU after serving as an assistant coach at Arkansas for the past three seasons. Prior to his time at Arkansas; Brown was an assistant coach at South Alabama. Richard Williams joined the coaching staff late in the summer and will serve as an assistant coach. Williams is well known as the former head coach at Mississippi State. While with the Bulldogs, Williams led the squad to the NCAA Final Four in 1996. During his time at MSU, Williams led his team to five postseason appearances and was named the SEC coach of the year twice.

RETURNERS
ASU returns four-of-five starters from last year including junior forward Martavius Adams who is ASU’s top returner from last season. Adams averaged 11.6 ppg and 7.5 rebounds starting in all 31 games last season. Senior Rashad Allison ranked third on the team with 8.5 ppg and led the squad with 127 rebounds.

SBC PRESEASON COACHES POLL

In the preseason coaches’ poll, also released Tuesday, the Red Wolves were tabbed to finish second in the west, grabbing 55 points behind 2009-10 tournament champion North Texas, who garnered all 12 of the first-place votes and 72 total points.

Denver was tabbed third, picking up 51 points, followed by Louisiana-Lafayette (36), UALR (26) and Louisiana-Monroe (12).

On the east side, Western Kentucky was the overall favorite to pick up the division title, grabbing 71 points and 11 first-place votes. Florida Atlantic was second with 53 points and one first-place vote. After FAU were South Alabama (47), Middle Tennessee (42), Florida International (22) and Troy (17).

“Our pick is certainly an indication based on what we did a year ago and based on the players we have returning and the respect that the program has created. Being picked second in the west after two years here has shown that our program has gained some respect around the league and within the league and hopefully that will continue with what we do this year,” said Brady.

SEASON OUTLOOK

With four of five starters returning from a year ago the Arkansas State basketball program will be bigger, stronger and more experienced this season under third-year head coach John Brady. The Red Wolves who posted a 17-11 mark last year including breaking double-digit league wins for only the seventh time since joining the Sun Belt are looking to improve on their second-place Western Division finish from last season.

Along with the four starters from last year, a familiar face will also return to the fold in senior Donald Boone who received his sixth year of eligibility from the NCAA after he missed last season with a knee injury. In 2008-09 Boone was ASU’s top scorer averaging 13.6 ppg.

Boone was a preseason all-conference selection last year before injuring his knee in the first game of the season. Boone returns for his sixth year after averaging 13.6 points per game to lead the Red Wolves in 2008-09. Boone also led the squad in steals and minutes played.

Adams is ASU’s top returning player from a year ago when he averaged 11.6 points per game and led the team with a rebounding average of 7.5. Adams was also one of only two players to start in all 31 contests last season.

“To have Martavious picked to the second-team is certainly an improvement for our team. Donald Boone, who created the respect two years ago by how he played in our first year here, is also second team, so that is definitely an improvement for us,” said ASU head coach John Brady. “The first year we came here, we had no one picked and now we have two players picked after our second year. Hopefully that is a trend that will continue, and each year we will continue to have a player or two picked on the first or second team from here on out.”

SBC HONORS

The Red Wolves landed two players on the Sun Belt preseason all-conference second team with senior guard Donald Boone and junior forward Martavious Adams earning preseason honors.

Boone was a preseason all-conference selection last year before injuring his knee in the first game of the season. Boone returns for his sixth year after averaging 13.6 points per game to lead the Red Wolves in 2008-09. Boone also led the squad in steals and minutes played.

Adams is ASU’s top returning player from a year ago when he averaged 11.6 points per game and led the team with a rebounding average of 7.5. Adams was also one of only two players to start in all 31 contests last season.

Boone adds to an already stellar group of last year’s returners led by junior forward Martavious Adams. Adams, who stands at 6-8, is the top returner from last season when he averaged 11.6 points per game and led the squad in rebounding averaging 7.5 per game. Adams was one of only two players to start all 31 games last season and ranked fourth in the league in rebounding and field assists. Daniel Bryant had a shortened season due to injury but in the 22 games he did play he averaged 10.5 ppg and shot 36% from beyond the three-point line. Donald Boone also got his sixth year of eligibility from the NCAA after he missed last season with a knee injury in 2008-09 Boone was ASU’s top scorer averaging 13.6 ppg.

ASU also posted an 11-7 SBC record this season which was its best league mark since the 2006-07 season when ASU achieved the same record. Its 11-wins was the seventh-time since ASU joined the Sun Belt that they have posted double-digit league wins.

With a Final Four appearance and 281 career victories already to his credit, John Brady was announced as Arkansas State’s 15th head men’s basketball coach by Director of Athletics Dr. Dean Lee at a press conference held in ASU’s Convocation Center on March 19, 2008.

During his first season with the Red Wolves, Brady helped lead ASU to one of the best starts in program history and achieved the No. 22 ranking on Collegeinsider.com’s Mid-Major Top 25 poll. As a team ASU greatly improved its defending and rebounding, finishing near the top of the conference in several statistical categories.

Brady took a step further in his second season with The Red Wolves, improving their record to 17-14 and the team advanced to the semifinals of the Sun Belt Tournament finishing second in the west. Brady was named Sun Belt Coach of the Year and the District VII Coach of the Year by the USBWA. ASU led the league in three-point FG defense, rebounding offense and defensive rebounding.

ASU also posted an 11-7 SBC record this season which was its best league mark since the 2006-07 season when ASU achieved the same record. Its 11-wins was the seventh-time since ASU joined the Sun Belt that they have posted double-digit league wins.

Brady spent the last 10-plus seasons serving as LSU’s head coach, leading the Tigers to six postseason berths, two SEC championships and three SEC Western Division titles. Twice named the SEC Coach of the Year, Brady is a proven winner who has a well-documented record of success and a long list of accomplishments.

Brady’s 16-year tenure as a head coach at both LSU and Samford in Birmingham, Alabama, has been decorated with achievements. He has coached a combined 25 All-TAAC and SEC selections, 48 academic all-conference choices, posted 11 winning seasons and collected five division championships. Brady piled up the third most wins in LSU history with 192 and left Samford after the 1996-97 season as the Bulldog’s all-time leader in coaching victories (89) as well.

He quickly turned around an LSU’s men’s basketball program that had suffered four consecutive losing seasons prior to his arrival, leading the Tigers to a 28-6 record, an SEC championship and an NCAA Sweet 16 appearance in just his third season (1999-00) at the helm. Under Brady’s direction, the Tigers recorded six consecutive winning seasons from 2001-02 to 2006-07 while making three trips to the NCAA Tournament and two more to the NIT. The 2005-06 campaign saw LSU post a 27-9 record and advance to the Final Four for the first time in 20 years.

Not only did Brady coach the Tigers to 23 Wins versus ranked opponents, he also led them to victories over two teams ranked No. 1 in the Associated Press Poll (Arizona in 2002-03 and Duke in 2005-06). Additionally, he orchestrated a 19-game home winning streak over SEC opponents, the third longest stretch in LSU history.

While at LSU, Brady coached two NBA Lottery picks and six current NBA players. The Tigers signed nine Parade All-Americans and four McDonald All-Americans under Brady, who also coached...

Since Arkansas State hired him as the school’s new basketball coach six weeks ago, John Brady -- yes, that John Brady -- has been determined to put his self-described “stamp” on the program. After meeting with each returning member of the team, Brady sought out the trainer and the academic advisers and the sports information officials and the facility management crew. He even sat down with the head of the dance squad. In short, Brady approached every individual who had anything -- however peripheral -- to do with the basketball team. In his spare time, he signed two recruits, restructured the booster club, changed the team uniform and commissioned renovations of the weight room and coaches’ offices. He explained his rationale: Players and recruits want to see change, they want to see improvement.

Scott Cacciola
Memphis Commercial Appeal
May 14, 2008

John Brady didn't make many promises, only one. He's committed to winning. The newly named Arkansas State basketball coach, Brady said he would teach his teams to play to their strengths . . . Winning has been a signature at every place Brady has coached. Rebuilding troubled programs into respected contenders is another.

Matt Roberson, Jonesboro Sun
March 20, 2008

“My commitment is to do everything I possibly can to get this program to the top of the Sun Belt. Whether it’s five years or eight years, this could possibly be my last stop. I could coach here eight years and retire somewhere. Every job I’ve always taken, my approach is to think long term.”

John Brady, ASU Head Basketball Coach
Quote from the Arkansas-Democrat Gazette
March 20, 2008

At the right time, Arkansas State needed John Brady when he needed and wanted ASU, and a new excitement surrounds the basketball program in Jonesboro.
