

Legal Notice

Legal Notice and Disclosures

This website to is not intended and should not be construed as a statement of applicable law nor a definitive explanation of the scope of UNIVERSITY's legal rights nor otherwise to provide any legal advice or opinion. It is the policy of UNIVERSITY to require a license for any use of any of its trademarks, and for any other activity involving its trademarks, that if unlicensed would constitute a trademark infringement or trademark dilution, but it is not the intent of UNIVERSITY's policy to limit or prevent or to require the licensing of activity that would not infringe or dilute UNIVERSITY's legal rights, e.g., the legitimate exercise of the constitutional right of free speech or trademark or copyright fair use.

However, UNIVERSITY does not provide advisory legal opinions or any other form of legal advice to third parties as to whether a proposed use of its trademarks may constitute permissible free speech or fair use or otherwise to not require a license. The denial by UNIVERSITY of any application for a license does not necessarily imply or infer that the requested activity would per se infringe or dilute any trademark, nor that the activity necessarily requires a license. Interested parties are encouraged to seek their own legal counsel on any questions concerning the need for or terms of a license from UNIVERSITY.